Israeli Troops Storm School

Three Guerrillas Die in Shootout

MA'ALOT, Israel (UPI) — Israeli forces today stormed a schoolbuilding where 75 schoolchildren were being held captive and killed three Arab guerrillas who had demanded the release of 20 jailed Arab commandos in exchange, the armed forces radio announced.

"There are about 10 wounded, some of them soldiers but I don't know if there are any other losses in life besides the terrorists," a local newsman told the radio in a telephoned interview.

Military sources said the smoke of grenades billowed through the western Galilee air around the school building in the battle that lasted four to six minutes.

The shootout occurred minutes before a 6 p.m. (noon EDT) deadline was due to expire for the release of the Arab guerrillas held in Israeli prisons. Some of the freed prisoners had already started arriving at the school building in this Galilee town four miles south of the Lebanese frontier.

Israel had agreed to release the prisoners in return for the lives of the children.

The Israeli announcement by a government spokesman—only the second time Israel has agreed to guerrilla demands—brought an immediate warning from the guerrillas that any trickery could lead to disaster. They said the lives of the children would not be safe until they and the freed guerrillas actually arrive in Damascus.

The band of three Hebrew-speaking guerrillas shot their way into the village before dawn today, killing at least five persons and wounding 11 others before they seized the schoolbuilding. They then announced it had been mined with explosives that could be detonated at any moment.

The guerrillas demanded two planes to fly them and the 20 jailed guerrillas to Damascus and Beirut and demanded and received assurances that French Ambassador Jean Herly accompany them as a hostage. They said the ambassador must give them a secret code word to prevent trickery.

Israeli radio reports said the guerrilla prisoners already were being flown by helicopter from the Gaza Strip to an airport.

The raid, second since April 12 when guerrillas killed 18 Israelis at Qiryat Shemona, followed Arab attacks on an oil refinery at Haifa and attempts to fire mortar shells into the heart of Jerusalem Tuesday night during the visit of Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger.

Today's raid brought a warning from Kissinger that it could endanger his current peace mission. He denounced the terrorist atack as "mindless and irrational" and appealed to Arab governments to deal sternly with the guerrillas.

The guerrillas replied through broadcasts that his statement was "ridiculous" and asked "where was Kissinger when Israel struck at children in the Golan Heights and Lebanon two days ago?" Beirut reports said seven women and children were killed in Israeli air attacks.

The Israeli cabinet broke off its discussions of a troop disengagement agreement with Syria to study today's crisis in Ma'alot. Defense Secretary Moshe Dayan shuttled between Ma'alot and Jerusalem with the guerrilla demands while Israeli troops surrounded the schoolhouse.

The number of children involved was not known immediately. Most Israeli reports said "about 85." The guerrillas themselves said around 100 children were being held at gunpoint.

Calling through loudspeakers from the second floor of the school, one of the guerrillas shouted in Arabic: "We shall hold out. Don't try to drag this out. Get in touch with the ambassador and spare the lives of your children."

They gave Israel a 6 p.m. (noon EDT) deadline for exchange of the prisoners and arrangement of the Arabs' safe passage to Damascus and said, "If you fail to stand by the timetable, we will blow this place up with everything and everybody still inside."

Another guerrilla, his face obscured by a bullhorn, appeared at another window and said:

"We cannot delay what we have decided to carry out. Only the ambassador can do so through our headquarters.

"We know you will try to drag us by our tongues but Damascus is not far away and neither is Beirut."

An official Israeli government spokesman said Prime Minister Golda Meir's cabinet had decided to free the jailed guerrillas "for the sake of the release of the students." He said French Ambassador Jean Herly had been authorized to act as intermediary in the exchange, as demanded by the guerrillas.

'Shock and Outrage'

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger expressed outrage today at a "mindless and irrational" terrorist attack against an Israeli town and said the raid threatened to disrupt his Middle East peace mission.

"Violence such as this will serve no cause but to undermine the prospects for peace in the area," Kissinger said after Palestinian terrorists seized a group of Israeli school children at a town near the Lebanese border.

The secretary said he was "shocked and outraged" by the attack and appealed to "all responsible governments" to make clear "such inhumane acts must be condemned and those who carry them out dealt with severely."

"The United States government strongly condemns this mindless and irrational action and appeals to those holding innocent hostages to release them," he said.

The Israeli cabinet met this morning to consider concessions in the troop disengagement talks with Syria, but ended up spending much of the time discussing the guerrilla attack against the town of Ma'alot.

Kissinger canceled his plans to spend the night in Damascus and instead was expected to fly to the Syrian capital early in the afternoon and return to Israel after talks with President Hafez Assad.

The guerrilla attack threatened to disrupt his mission by hardening sentiment in Israel against granting concessions to Syria. Protestors have already jeered the secretary at his meetings with Prime Minister Golda Meir.

In addition, Israel could harden Syria's negotiating position by launching a retaliatory raid into neighboring Lebanon to avenge the Ma'alot attack.

In other activity, police reported dismantling three Soviet-made rockets today just as they were about to fire into downtown Jerusalem, where Kissinger was staying.

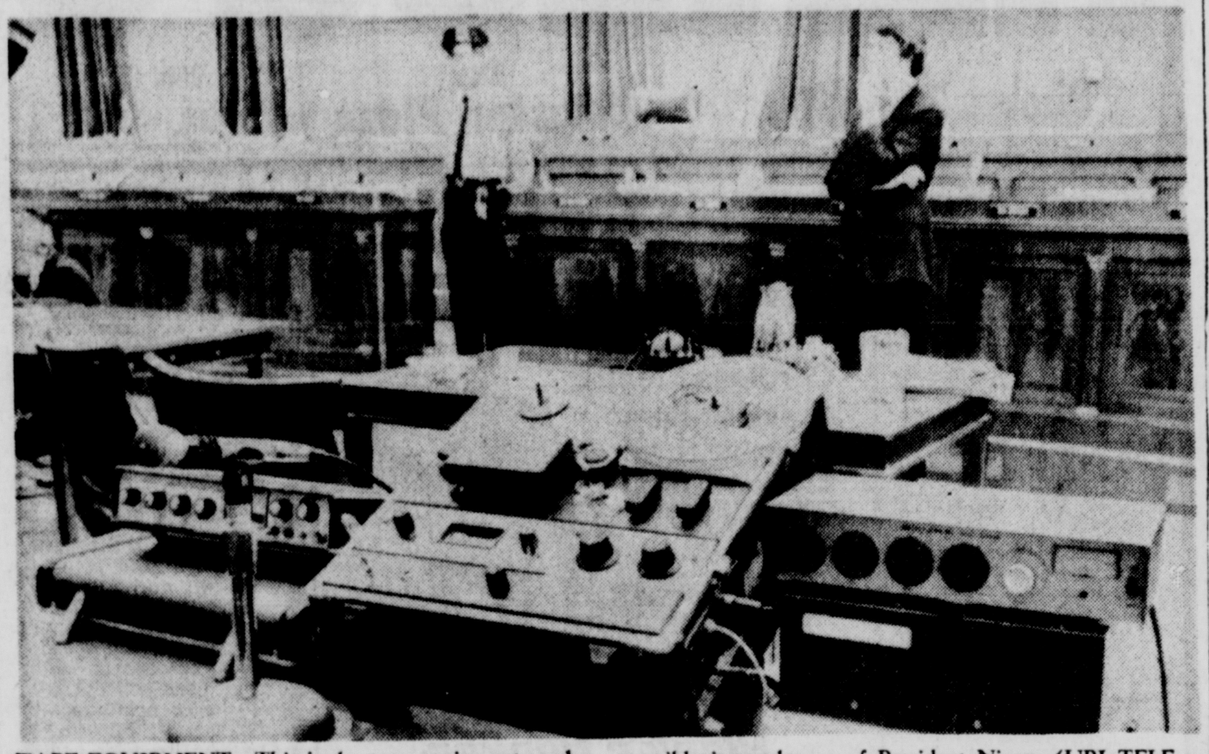

Kissinger had lined up today's trip to Damascus in an attempt to arrange a Golan Heights troop separation pact during the last days of his longest peace mission.

A high U.S. official traveling with Kissinger said the talks were "in a holding pattern," but the secretary expected to tell by Thursday whether he could arrange a disengagement accord on his fifth peace trip to the region.

Israeli settlers on the heights, however, stepped up pressure on the Jerusalem government to prevent a major return of Syrian territory captured during the last two Middle East wars.

About 500 protesters, carrying signs saying "Beware America —Kissinger breaks your last ally," hooted and jeered Tuesday night as the secretary met with Mrs. Meir in Jerusalem on his return from Syria.

A bomb made of two bazooka shells exploded in a vacant lot near the U.S. Consulate in East Jerusalem three miles from where Kissinger was meeting with the prime minister. There were no reported injuries.

Panel Will Subpoena 11 More Tapes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Refusing to take President Nixon's "no" for an answer, the House Judiciary Committee voted 37 to 1 today to subpoena tapes of 11 more of President Nixon's Watergate conversations.

The committee, brushing aside Nixon's claim that he had furnished the "whole Watergate story," then considered a second proposed subpoena—this one for daily entries covering nine months of Nixon's diaries of 1972 and 1973. Its approval also was expected.

The subpoenas would give Nixon one week to comply.

John M. Doar, special impeachment counsel, disclosed that the committee on Thursday would be asked to subpoena an additional 40 tapes on milk producers' contributions to Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign and 22 tapes on the International Telephone and Telegraph settlement.

Rep. Edward Hutchinson of Michigan, the ranking Republican on the committee, was the only vote against the subpoena for more tapes.

The tapes sought are for conversations by Nixon both before and after the Watergate burglary—on April 4, 1972, and on June 20 and June 23, 1972. The break-in took place June 17, 1972.

The second request covered Nixon diaries for April-July 1972; February-April 1973; July 12-31, 1973, and October 1973.

In addition, the committee's chief counsel, John M. Doar said the President ultimately would be subpoenaed for 79 more tapes on his role in Watergate.

Today's subpoena for 11 Watergate tapes was only the third ever voted by a committee of Congress on a President.

The first was issued by the Senate Watergate committee last summer but the courts refused to enforce it. The second was issued by the House Judiciary Committee on April 11.

Hutchinson has taken the position that the committee should serve no subpoenas on Nixon since it cannot enforce them and since subpoenas only provoke confrontations.

Meanwhile, Chairman Sam J. Ervin Jr. is prepared to urge the Senate Watergate Committee to delay its final report for up to a month and to eliminate all findings of individual guilt or innocence, committee sources report.

A majority of the committee's seven senators are said to be ready to endorse that plan to avoid any interference with House impeachment proceedings and the Watergate cover-up trial.

Meanwhile, sources said there are indications Alexander M. Haig Jr., President Nixon's chief of staff, will answer at least some questions in testimony before committee investigators today.

Earlier this month Haig was warned he was risking a contempt of Congress citation by refusing to answer any questions on grounds of executive privilege.

In a related development, former presidential appointments secretary Dwight L. Chapin, pleading for leniency, faced sentencing for perjury today by a judge who called proof of his deliberate lies "overwhelming."

The 33-year-old Chapin, whose association with President Nixon goes back a decade, could be sentenced to a maximum 10 years in prison and a $20,000 fine.

He was convicted by a jury April 5 of two counts of making false statements to the FBI about political trickster Donald H. Segretti.

Stewart Runway Funds Scrapped

By JON POWERS

ALBANY

In a move that could spell the ultimate and final defeat of Metropolitan Transportation Authority plans to expand Stewart Airport in Newburgh, the New York State Legislature Tuesday night withdrew funding authorization for a 4,000 foot extension of the airport's main runway.

Lengthening of the main runway at Stewart from 8,0000 to 12,000 feet had been seen as a major and necessary step in the eventual development of Stewart into a fourth major commercial and passenger jetport for the New York metropolitan region.

There was no debate concerning the deletion of funds for the runway, and most legislators didn't even notice the absence.

The repeal of runway expansion financing was included in an obscure section of the state's $115 million supplemental budget submitted to the legislature by Gov. Malcolm Wilson, and approved by the lawmakers Tuesday night.

Legislature passes supplemental budget, complete with 'goodies'. Story on page 4.

Wilson has publicly stated that he doesn't see any need for an expanded Stewart Airport at this time. The two major proponents of the Stewart plan were former Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and former MTA chairman William Ronan. Both have since moved to other jobs.

Officials with the Metropolitan Transportation Authority declined substantive comment on the legisature's action Tuesday night. The Federal Aviation Administration, which is in the process of preparing a long-range master plan and environmental impact statement for the airport's expansion, said only that its studies will continue.

The FAA had earlier recommended major expansion of Stewart, but then slowed its study pace with the energy crisis hit.

In late March, more than 30 top airline officials and industrial representatives, after meeting with Ronan in Newburgh, expressed keen interest in the Stewart jetport plans.

But most said that industrial and economic expansion of the Stewart area could not be accomplished unless the main runway is extended to 12,000 feet. The airlines, in particular, said the lengthened runway is necessary to accomodate the fully-loaded 747's, 707's and DC8's that would use the runway.

Cites 'Greater Awareness of the Public'

Hinchey to Seek State Assembly Seat

MAURICE HINCHEY

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON

Maurice D. Hinchey, counting on "increased public awareness to the evils of conflict of interests," declared his candidacy today for Ulster County's seat in the State Assembly. H. Clark Bell of Woodstock is the incumbent Assemblyman.

Speaking at a press conference at the Gov. Clinton Hotel, Hinchey, a 35-year old supervisor for professional licensing for the State Education Department and an unsuccessful candidate for this same post in 1972, declared, "We have to take this government back into our own hands. We have to elect people from among ourselves who understand our mutual problems — people we can trust."

Hinchey spoke of the "greater awareness of the public" brought about by the Watergate scandals. "I think they've seen government from inside and they don't like what they've seen," Hinchey said. "They won't accept the kinds of conflicts they've see

Hinchey ran against Bell, the Republican-Conservative incumbent in 1972 losing by 10,762 votes. Reminded of that fact, Hinchey pointed out that he had cut heavily into Bell's 1970 plurality against Geroge Barthel, stating, "If we can do that well this time, we'll win." Barthel lost to Bell by 18,667 votes four years ago.

Hinchey, in running against Bell two years ago, repeatedly attacked him for alleged "conflict of interests" between Bell's position as a state legislator and his interests in banking, insurance and the legal field.

"I am running because I know the incumbent and because I know he does not represent the people of this district," Hinchey said, offering more of the same line of attack. "Whom does he represent," Hinchey asked, answering, "Less than five per cent to us—the special interests, the banks, the insurance companies, the lawyers, the resort owners, but not you or me! And every time he is effective in helping a special interest, the cost of living goes up for the rest of us."

Hinchey said he will begin his "full time" campaigning on Sept. 1. He said he will combine vacation time and an unpaid leave of absence from his state job in order to devote time to his campaign.

Joining Hinchey at today's press conference were Harold Brown, County Democratic chairman, Nicholas Angell, declared candidate for Congress in the 25th District, Hinchey's wife, Erika and their two sons, Maurice and Josef.

Lazy Days When the Living Is Easy

With thoughts obviously elsewhere, Vince Micari wets a line in in the Wallkill River near Tillson. An overturned tar bucket, a can of worms, a trusty pole and an apparent indifference to more wordly cares were the perfect props for this contemplative exercise. FENCING OUT VANDALS — A fence had to be erected around this new home under construction at the corner of Davis and Abeel Streets after vandals struck early Monday, doing an estimated $2,000 worth of damage to copper tubing at the site, according to James Berardi, whose daughter and son-in-law, Josephine and Reginald Lawlis, are putting up the new house. Berardi said copper plumbing projecting from the foundation was apparently broken off and carted away. The fencing, put up after the incident, cost an additional $1,800, Berardi said, leaving the owners with a $3,800 loss. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

'Detroit Four' Case Goes to Jury

By JON POWERS

KINGSTON — A six-man six-woman jury began deliberations at 10 a.m. today in the County Court trial of the "Detroit Four."

The four defendants — Marcella Murphy, 17, Raymond Hardwick, 31, Samuel Allen, 31 and Melvin Lemmons, 33—each face four criminal charges: possession of a .45 caliber revolver, a .38 caliber revolver, a semi-automatic sub-machine gun and more than a pound of heroin.

The jury must determine the guilt or innocence of each defendant on each of the four separate charges. The jury will return with 16 separate verdicts.

In his hour-long charge to the jury this morning, County Court Judge Raymond J. Mino dealt at length on the complicated laws of possession that the jury must consider during its deliberations.

Judge Mino said the law stipulates two different kinds of possession: physical possession and constructive, or presumptive, possession. He said the prosecution's case was based largely on "presumptive possession," and he told the jury that it must decide, beyond a reasonble doubt, whether each of the defendants had knowledgeable possession, as well as as "dominion and control," over the weapons and narcotics.

"Knowledgeable possession" was the major issue for both the defense and prosecution during the eight-day trial. The defense attorneys attempted to show that, because the machine gun and heroin were found in the trunk of the defendants' car, but the key to the trunk was never located, the defendants did not realize that the items were in the trunk of the borrowed auto.

The two revolvers were found inside the car, in a purse belonging to Marcella Murphy. Attorneys for Hardrick, Allen and Lemmons maintained that their clients had no knowledge that the guns were in Miss Murphy's purse. Her attorney, in turn, contended that the guns belonged to someone else, and that she really didn't have control over them.

But first assistant district attorney Ellen G. Donovan, in a tough, no-nonsense summation to the jury Tuesday afternoon, openly scoffed at the defense allegations.

She referred to Marcella Murphy as "Saint Marcella," and said, "if she didn't use the guns in her pocket, she could have used the pocketknife in her bra.

"The only thing these people (the defense attorneys) can do is throw up a smokescreen to confuse you . . . These people had the guns, they got caught and now they have to answer for it. That's their problem."

She added, "The defense would have you believe that the entire population of Rochester, New York could have walked up to that car, throw a pound-and-a-half of heroin into the trunk, and then disappear into the darkness, leaving these poor people holding the bag. It's fantastic for them to expect 12 intelligent people to believe a story like that."

She referred to frequent defense criticisms during the trial that state police failed to dust vital areas for fingerprints. "The defense would have wanted the entire New York State Thruway dusted for prints," said Ms. Donovan, "Nothing they say can make those guns disappear."

Armed Robbery in Esopus

PORT EWEN — State police BCI investigators launched an intensive investigation early today into what they said was an armed robbery of an elderly Town of Esopus man at his residence.

Investigators said two youths forced their way into the home of the 80-year-old man at about 1 a. m., tied his hands with a piece of cord, and demanded he tell them where he kept his money.

The elderly man, who was not identified by police, led the youths to an upstairs bedroom, where they allegedly took an estimated $170 from his wallet and fled.

On the youths was believed to have been carrying a knife, according to authorities. The elderly victim was not reported injured.

The Freeman has learned that two possible suspects in the armed robbery were being questioned by state police later this morning. Investigators declined to release the names of the two youths being questioned until charges are lodged, if they are lodged.

Police said the victim of the robbery told them two youths forced their way into his home when he answered a knock at his door.

The elderly man told police the robbers were both white.

Police said the one who was believed to be carrying the knife was apparently between 18 and 20 years old, weighed about 165 pounds, was of medium build and was wearing a denim jacket and dungarees. The second youth was believed to be also in his late teens, was about 145 pounds with a medium build, and was wearing dark clothing.

Compactors Causing City Problems

KINGSTON — City elected officials met with officials from the Department of Public Works Tuesday night to further discuss a DPW request for some $335,000 worth of new equipment for the department.

The meeting was called by the Finance, Ways and Means Committee of the Council, chaired by Alderman John E. Finch (D-Fifth Ward). "The legislation was referred to the Finance Committee so we're looking into the facts and figures," Finch said.

Although there are 19 pieecs of equipment on the BPW list, the disagreement comes down to trash compactors, which not incidentally are considered the most "critical" item by DPW officials.

Alderman Donald E. Quick (D-Sixth Ward), heads a group of councilmen who want to purchase 31-yard trash compacting trucks. Quick argues that two of the trucks could cover the entire city.

Mayor Francis R. Koenig and the Board of Public Works took bids on four 20-yard trucks on May 1 and have selected Albany Avenue Garage at some $117,000 as the low bidder.

Proponents of the 20-yarders argue that there is "safety in numbers" in that if one of the 31-yarders breaks down the city's trash compaction forces are cut in half while if one of the 20-yarders break down there would still be three left. Since no bids were taken on the 31-yarders, there is no accurate way to compare initial costs.

Finch indicates that last night's meeting was successful in that it brought about agreement on equipment needs other than the compactors. Indications are that bidders will be "unofficially notified" that their bids will be acted on at he June 4 regular meeting of the Common Council.

Whether or not the city will be in a position to buy compactors at the May 1 price by the June 4 meeting is not known. If rebidding is required indications are the cost will climb considerably.

Reelection Bid in Newark

Impressive Victory for Gibson

By United Press International

Newark, N.J., Mayor Kenneth A. Gibson, who has steered a moderate course as the first black mayor in a major Eastern city, won re-election to a second term Tuesday by defeating the leader of the city's white community.

In addition to the municipal elections in New Jersey, two states held primary elections Tuesday.

West Virginians renominated their four Democratic congressman, but in Nebraska late returns were so close in the GOP primary that the congressional nomination race was not decided as of early today.

Gibson, a 43-year-old engineer, defeated New Jersey state Sen. Anthony Imperiale 41, an ex-Marine and a karate expert, 42,313 to 33,652 in Newark. Three other minor candidates polled only a handful of votes.

Gibson, who became the first Negro mayor of a big Eastern city when he was elected in 1970, campaigned on his record in dealing with the problems of the predominantly black city. Imperiale was unable to capitalize on his charges that Gibson was unable to guarantee stability in Newark.

In West Virginia, voters in the Democratic primary renominated Reps. Robert Mollohan, John Slack, Harley Staggers, and Ken Hechler. Staggers and Hechler were unopposed.

On the Republican ticket, Wheeling attorney Joseph Laurita Jr. defeated Marshall County Assessor Alfred Clark by a 2,000-vote margin with three fourths of the precincts reporting. Laurita now will face Mollohan in November.

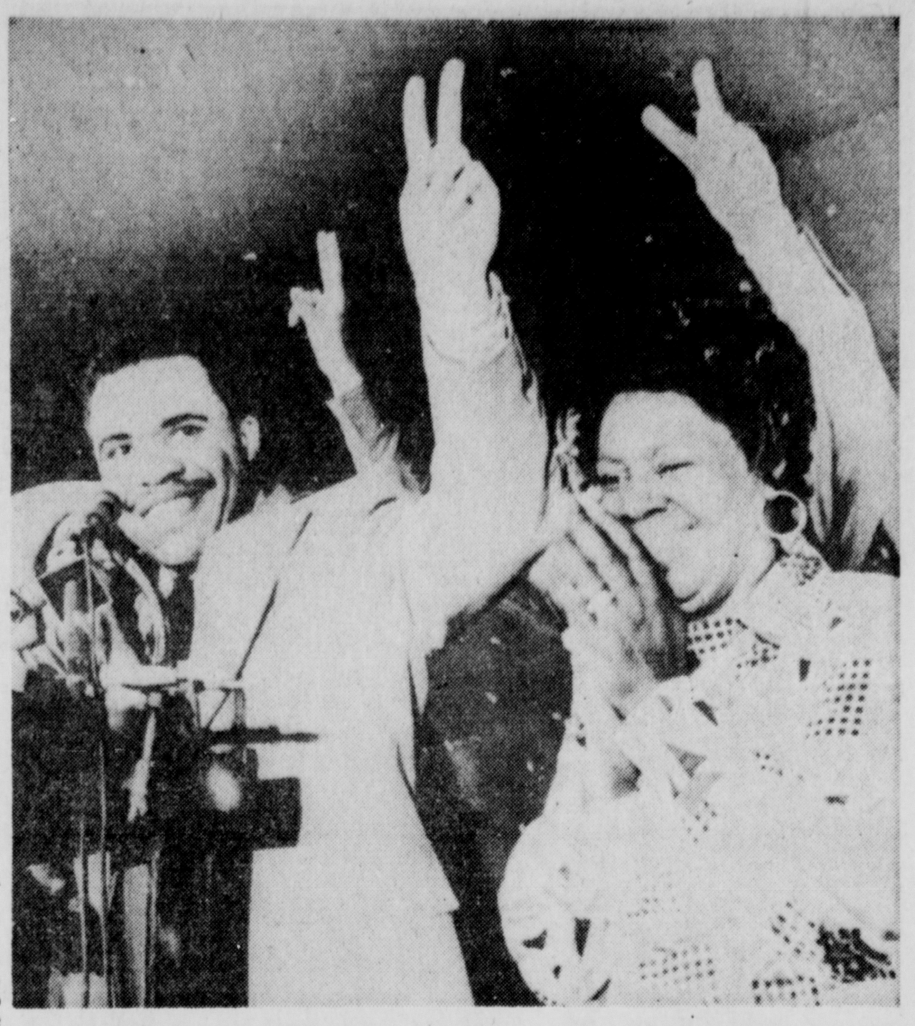

William Loy of Romney, former aide to Republican Gov. Arch Moore Jr. was unopposed for the GOP nomination in the 2nd District, now represented by Staggers, and William Larcamp of St. Albans was unopposed for the Republican nomination in the 3rd District. Larcamp now challenges Slack in November.

In Nebraska, three Republicans in an eight-man field scrambling for their party's 3rd District congressional nomination ran neck-and-neck.

The three candidates, state Sen. Gerald Stromer of Kearney, Mrs. Haven Smith of Chappell and Mayor Don Blank of McCook, sought to succeed retiring Rep. Dave Martin, R-Neb., who decided not to seek another term.

In the state's other two districts, Rep. John Y. McCollister in the 2nd and Charles Thone in the 1st, both Republicans, were unopposed. Also unopposed was former state Democratic Chairman Hess Dyas on the Democratic ballot in the 1st District.

Brooke Attacks Busing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward W. Brooke charged today that sponsors of a proposal that would virtually end school busing for desegregation purposes were trying to bring back racial separatism in America.

Brooke, the only black senator, said in a prepared speech that such a proposal "would encourage the development of two nations within our country—one white and the other black."

The Massachusetts Republican spoke out before the key vote on the proposal, sponsored by Sen. Edward J. Gurney, R-Fla., as an amendment to a $23 billion education bill.

Brooke said he was saddened because President Nixon, a supporter of the amendment, and some members of Congress "pander to the anxieties of some Americans, black and white, and play into the hands of those who seek separatism, thrive on strife and flourish on divisive rhetoric."

Brooke declared, "I have never seen anything both separate and equal in this nation . . . ."

Brooke said the Gurney amendment would undo completely the slow but steady progress made under the 20-year-old Supreme Court school desegregation decision.

The amendment, scheduled to be voted on in the late afternoon, would require the courts to consider other remedies before ordering any busing. And then busing would be limited to the next closest school to the pupil's home.

It would permit reopening of all previously decided busing cases and their redetermination on the basis of the new limitations.

Supporters of the amendment assert it would prevent "forced busing," which they insist is "destroying the integrity of public education" in the United States.

Both sides expect the vote on the amendment to be close, with a possibility that absentees may decide the outcome.

Before the busing vote, the Senate is scheduled to dispose of another highly controversial issue — how to distribute about $2 billion annually in federal education aid funds to the nation's school districts.

The issue was debated through a long session Tuesday but the vote put over until today.

The money involved is authorized under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act and is designed to improve education of disadvantaged children.

Congressional Showdown On Tax Reform Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats are ready for a showdown on proposals that would swiftly boost oil industry taxes by several billion dollars.

The Democrats were called today to a special caucus to act on resolutions urging the House Rules Committee to let the House vote on the amendments advocated by Reps. William J. Green, D-Pa., and Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio.

Green and Vanik, members of the Ways and Means Committee, are unhappy with that panel's version of oil tax reform legislation. They challenged Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., when he decided to seek from the Rules Committee a rule forbidding amendments.

So Geren and Vanik petitioned for the Democratic caucus in an attempt to bind the Democratic majority of the Rules Committee to allow House consideration of their amendments.

Oil-state members of the Ways and Means Committee headed opposition to the panel's bill. Furthermore, three of 10 Democrats on the Rules Committee are from oil states.

The Ways and Means Committee's bill would hike petroleum industry taxes by about $13 billion to $14 billion over six years. It would phase out a major oil industry tax break—the oil depletion allowance—by 1979 and would impose a temporary new excise tax on windfall profits earned by the industry during the energy shortage.

However, the new windfall levy is linked with a provision eventually giving oilmen a way to escape paying much of this new tax by plowing profits back into the search for oil. The bill also would toughen tax treatment of oil company income from foreign sources.

The depletion allowance saves oilmen $2 billion to $3 billion a year in federal taxes. It permits 22 per cent of gross income from oil and natural gas property to be deducted from taxable income up to a top of 50 per cent of taxable net income. The committee boosted the 50 per cent to 100 per cent, and decided to keep the allowance for most natural gas.

Green's amendment would end the allowance for both oil and gas on Jan. 1, 1974. He said this would increase industry taxes by nearly $2 billion this year on profits of $9 billion.

Vanik said his amendment also would produce an additional $2 billion per year for the Treasury. The driller of a well now can charge off as a current expense most of the cost, instead of treating the well as a capital asset to be depreciated over years. Vanik would end this expense treatment of so-called intangible costs on foreign oil and gas wells effective Jan. 1, 1974.

West Germany to Elect Scheel as New President

BONN (UPI) — The two-party ruling coalition, shaken by the spy scandal resignation of Chancellor Willy Brandt, tried to unite today to elect Foreign Minister Walter Scheel as West Germany's next president.

Scheel's election by the 1,036 member Federal Assembly would pave the way for parliament to appoint Finance Minister Helmut Schmidt to Brandt's old job.

On the eve of the election, Schmidt, a leading figure in the Social Democratic party, and Scheel, head of the Free Democratic party, agreed on the members of a new West German cabinet.

The accord by the two political parties, which have a substantial majority in the legislature, virtually assured Scheel's election over opposition Christian Democratic candidate Richard von Weizsaecker.

The winner would succeed retiring President Gustav Heinemann in the largely ceremonial post. Under West Germany's parliamentary system, the chancellor handles the day-to-day job of running the government.

Political sources said Interior Minister Hans-Dietrich Genscher would replace Scheel as active leader of the Free Democratic party following the election.

The sources said Genscher would also take over Scheel's old posts as deputy chancellor and foreign minister in the new cabinet.

Schmidt was expected to announce the new cabinet after his anticipated election as chancellor on Thursday. Coalition spokesmen, however, said party leaders have agreed already on all the names of the cabinet ministers.

The sources said new ministers included Schmidt protege Hans Apel, picked to succeed the chancellor-designate as finance minister.

Ministers leaving the government included Communications Minister Horst Ehmke, blamed by many members of the Social Democratic party for the spy scandal that led to Brandt's resignation a week ago.

Ehmke headed the office that hired alleged Communist spy Guenther Guillaume as one of Brandt's top aides. Intelligence agents arrested Guillaume last month on charges of spying for East Germany.

Now. Get some teeth in your health coverage.

Now you can get dental care coverage where you work. Even if the company you work for has as few as 25 people.

The rates are low.

The benefits are good.

And you can go to any dentist you want to.

It's a new Blue Cross and Blue Shield idea.

It's a clear, easy-to-understand program, so that everyone knows in advance how much we pay for what.

And you'll be assured of fast and accurate payments of claims.

So many people are worried about tooth care, and the costs they can incur, that we've had lots of requests for such a program.

Now it's here.

A program that includes most of the things you and your family go to the dentist for.

We haven't the room to give you all the specifics here, but we'll be delighted to send you a booklet that spells them out in detail.

After that, you can discuss it with the person in charge of the health care program where you work.

Most people don't go to the dentist often enough.

The fact that we'll help pay most of your bills makes it easier.

And when you go to your dentist regularly, chances are most dental problems will be detected before they become serious.

You shouldn't neglect your teeth.

So you shouldn't neglect to send in the coupon for more information.

MUSICIAN'S MAILBOX MOTIF — Anyone driving down Plochmann Lane, Woodstock, would be able to find Harry M. Castiglione's house at number 49. President of Local 215, American Federation of Musicians, Castiglione decided one day to just let it slide, with the resultant trombone mailbox. The sackbut is 53 years old, and Harry learned to play on the instrument when he was 10 years old (it wasn't new then). He has since replaced it for active duty. Castiglione also is an executive board member of the New York State Conference of Musicians and a Credentials Committee member of the National Convention, A.F. of M. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

Lawmakers Approve Supplemental Budget

Judges, College, Snow...'Goodies'

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Pay raises for judges, aid to Eisenhower College and funds for snow-making equipment are among what politicians call "the goodies" in a supplemental budget approved by the legislature.

The $115 million spending plan was approved by the Senate and Assembly Tuesday night, bringing total appropriations for the current state fiscal year to $9.58 billion.

This is $200 million more than Gov. Malcolm Wilson said would be available in revenues when he submitted his budget in January.

No one has said how the difference is to be made up, although the gap is considered to be within range of imaginative bookkeeping, and Wilson's income estimates were generally considered conservative.

The supplemental budget was the major item acted on by the two houses before they recessed late Tuesday night to come back today for another try at adjourning the 1974 session.

It may also be the last big measure approved in this session.

Two pending issues—restoration of a limited form of rent control in New York City and aid to the Consolidated Edison Co.—are reported to be so far from resolution that a special session during the summer may be necessary to deal with them.

In other developments Monday:

—The two houses approved and sent to the governor a new obscenity bill that seeks to ban books, movies, magazines and performances that include "patently offensive sexual material.

—The Assembly approved and sent to the Senate a bill placing restrictions on the state's permissive abortion law, by requiring that abortions be held in hospitals after the 12th week of pregnancy and that two doctors be present after the 20th week.

The supplemental budget is an annual, end-of-the-session ritual in which the legislators approve expenditures that supposedly were not anticipated when the regular budget was approved in March.

It is also used, however, for last-minute political "goodies" and to fund programs the legislators sought to "shake up" by withholding funds in the regular budget.

On top of the $9.31 billion budget plan approved in March—which had $3.5 million in unassigned revenues—the lawmakers have now added a $77 million aid program for local schools, a $41 million aid program for college students, $15 million more for the arts, the $115 million supplemental budget and other minor appropriations.

Items in the supplemental budget included:

—$26 million to cover the cost of inflation on such things as food, fuel and materials used by the state.

—$2.4 million to cover pay raises for judges on the state Supreme Court, the Appellate Division and the Court of Appeals, and the New York City civil and criminal courts. The salary of the highest paid judge, the chief judge of the Court of Appeals, will go from $52,622 to $63,143. The pay raises were scheduled to go into effect Jan. 1; the supplemental budget advances them to July 1.

—$520,000 for snow-making equipment at Gore Mountain Ski Center in the Adirondacks, which is owned by the state.

—$3.4 million for the Alcoholism Research Institute.

—$1.1 million for completion of the Performing Arts Center at Lewiston, theater productions and operations.

—$11 million for negotiated pay raises of 6.5 per cent for State University faculty and staff.

—$2 million to help the financially struggling Eisenhower College.

—$750,000 for defense counsel for defendants in the Attica prison rebellion of September 1971.

—$662,000 to restore cuts made in the budget of Maurice Nadjari, special prosecutor investigating New York City corruption.

Democrats tried unsuccessfully to amend the budget to provide more money for, among other things, day care centers and the Bronx Zoo.

But the measure was approved along strict party lines in the Assembly, 79-67, and 47-12 in the Senate, where 10 Democrats joined majority Republicans in supporting it.

Occupation 'Peaceful'

EAGLE BAY, N.Y. (AP)—Claiming they have returned to land that nature gave them 10,000 years ago, about 35 Indians today continued their peaceful occupation of a 600-acre campsite near here.

"We have returned to our homeland. It is not only our right but our duty to reclaim it," Louis Hall, a spokesman for the group, told a news conference Tuesday.

"We may have to go to all manners of hard times to regain our land, but we have a right to our nationality," Hall told reporters and visitors, who were refused admittance to the campsite.

Hall said the group claimed "the Mohawk land was legally stolen by (New York) state agents after the Revolutionary War." The group claims that the Mohawk land comprises the entire Adirondack Park and half the State of Vermont, he said.

The Indians, from reservations in Canada and parts of New York State, set up camp Monday on the parcel of state land at Herkimer County's Big Moose lake, about three miles north of here in the Adirondack Forest Preserve.

The site was a girls' summer camp before it was purchased by the state last August.

"This camp is out to prove that traditional Indians can live off the land without electricity, money, welfare relief or aid of any kind," Hall said.

He said the group was an advance party of some 400 to 500 Iroquois expected to move into the area soon. The Iroquois nation includes Mohawk, Oneida, Onondaga, Cayuga and Seneca Indians.

Health Violations Listed

WOODSTOCK

Three Woodstock restaurants have been scored for having "outstanding health violations," according to the April report of Ulster County Health Commissioner Dr. Bartholomew J. Dutto.

They include: Joshua's Cafe, Pizza Restaurant and Woodstock Lanes Restaurant.

According to the Health Department, Joshua's Restaurant was found to have its kitchenware, food service areas and equipment in need of cleaning and not free from contamination. Food containers were reportedly found uncovered, the thermometer in the refrigerator was improper and the bath room was reportedly dirty.

The department reported further that the Pizza Restaurant has no sewage system and the restaurant was being operated without a permit.

Woodstock Lanes which had 20 violations early in April, reportedly corrected many of them but the restaurant was still found to be in need of a new sink and drainboard, according to John Power, director of environmental sanitation. Reinspection of all three restaurants is planned.

The department also inspected 25 other restaurants in the county in April and found them to be without any outstanding sanitary violations.

They include: Coffee Pot Restaurant, Kerhonkson; Kurta Restaurant, Glenford Diner and Blue Stone Inn in Hurley and R & C Restaurant in Plattekill.

Also included: The Bear Cafe, Cafe Expresso, Usher Restaurant, The New Shop, Joyous Lake Restaurant, Dot's Restaurant, Eric Cheese Board The Woodstocker and the Red Lion Restuarant, all in Woodstock.

Two Ellenville Restaurants were also given a clean bill of health. They were McDonald's Restaurant and Coachman Diner.

Sears Coffee Shop in the City of Kingston was found to be without any violations as were the following restaurants in Olive: Al & Jean's Landmark, Bel Air Restaurant, Donut Mix, Boiceville Inn, Rebel Inn, Pheasant Inn, Pineview Bakery and Shokan Tavern.

Identity of Transcript Typists Shielded

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House is shielding the identity of the typists who transcribed President Nixon's Watergate tapes for fear they might be subpoenaed, sources say.

One knowledgeable source said Nixon's lawyers several weeks ago made the decision to resist any effort to question the typists about preparation of transcripts dotted with more than 1,600 passages marked "inaudible" or "unintelligible."

"We don't want them hounded," said one official who rebuffed a newsman's attempt to learn the identity of the typists.

Nixon's chief Watergate lawyer, James D. St. Clair, has consistently refused to divulge the names "because no useful purpose would be served by it."

Presidential spokesman Gerald L. Warren referred a questioner to St. Clair's remark and said "there are a number of reasons that fall into that category."

Asked whether fear of subpoenas was the main reason, Warren responded, "I haven't heard that."

Controversy over preparation of the transcripts was heightened Tuesday with disclosure that they contain two different versions of a portion of one conversation — with substantial differences in some words and phrases.

Acknowledging the snafu, officials said it probably resulted when two typists transcribed a portion of the same tape, or when the same conversation was listened to time and again in an effort to decipher unintelligible portions.

Despite the secrecy surrounding the identity of the typists, some details of the transcription procedure have emerged in private and public comments by White House officials and sources.

J. Fred Buzhardt, Nixon's special counsel, was in charge of the task—"He was the operational commander," one official said.

Late last year, transcripts of about 10 of the key conversations were made as the White House prepared to respond to a subpoena from the Watergate special prosecutor. Beginning in late March—well before receipt of the House Judiciary Committee's April 11 subpoena for 42 tapes—a system was implemented to make further transcripts.

Buzhardt was in charge, but one source said "Rose Mary was involved," a reference to Nixon's long-time personal secretary Rose Mary Woods.

According to another source, Miss Woods did not have a role in transcribing the tapes themselves. But she apparently teamed with Buzhardt in checking out tapes from a vault in the Executive Office Building and carrying them to an office where the team of four to six typists worked behind locked doors.

Locating the specific conversations on the reels of tape was a big job in itself, one official said. "You couldn't walk up to a file cabinet and pull them out," he said. "Some tape reels covered a day or more . . . ."

Once the desired conversation was located by the supervisors, the typists used conventional tape recorders and head sets to prepare a rough draft of the conversation.

"You get a very rough initial transcript," St. Clair told newsmen last week. "The President reviews that. Then it is reviewed to see how many other words can be put in. You have got a blank here and now you listen and try to fill in that blank and get as many words as you can."

"They were improved upon by this process," Warren said Tuesday in describing how the tapes would be listened to "over and over again" to try to unscramble unintelligible conversation.

Some of the passages listed as "inaudible" or "unintelligible" resulted when two persons spoke at once, officials said. They said others occurred when the sound-activated tape recorder turned itself off during lulls in conversation, and still others were caused when conversation was disrupted by such sounds as the clatter of a coffee cup near a hidden microphone.

The House Judiciary staff, however, has reported that some of the inaudibles listed in the transcripts can be deciphered when the tapes are played on recorders more sophisticated than those used by the White House.

Sources said Buzhardt acted as the final arbiter of what words and phrases should be classed as unintelligible.

According to St. Clair, once the transcripts reached Nixon he made "every decision with respect to what should be included and excluded," and listened himself to a number of the tapes.

This apparently means Nixon personally ordered deletion of 35 segments of conversation of unidentified length from the transcripts on grounds they were not relevant to the Watergate investigation.

THE FAMOUS JEWELS — First Lady Pat Nixon, shown wearing at state dinner in October the set of matched emeralds and diamonds presented her by Saudi Arabian Prince Fahd in 1969, never had any intention of keeping these or any of the jewelry presented her and her daughters over the past five years by Saudi Arabian royalty. White House aides made the comment in response to questions raised in a report by Washington Post columnist Maxine Cheshire. The White House said the jewels were always intended to go to the National Archives, but that Mrs. Nixon had a right to wear them during her tenure. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Zebra Informer Seeking Family Protection

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — An attorney for an informer in the "Zebra" killings case said Tuesday his client was looking for protection for himself and his family against a terrorrist group that already had killed his brother.

The lawyer said the informer was not interested in the $30,000 reward.

Irving J. Hurd Jr., an Oakland, Calif., lawyer, told reporters he arranged a secret meeting April 27 with San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto for the informer, Anthony C. Harris, 28, a state prison parolee.

Seven blacks were arrested as a result of Harris' talks with Alioto but four were released because of insufficient evidence. The other three suspects pleaded innocent to the charges.

The "Zebra" killers are believed to have been responsible for the random street slaying of 12 whites in San Francisco since last November.

Hurd said he became involved in the case when Harris contacted Laurence Kaufman, his law partner.

Asked about the reward, Hurd said: "That wasn't what he wanted. He wanted protection for himself and his family. He claimed the terror organization had already killed his brother for infraction of strict rules by which the group lives."

The group referred to in the attorney's statement was identified as the "Death Angels."

Hurd said Harris had been recruited into the terrorist organization while in prison. Once paroled, he said, his client became involved in its activities "so deeply he couldn't get out."

Harris was troubled by nightmares about the "Death Angels" and, decided to talk with police, Hurd said.

Harris, released from San Quentin Prison last October after serving a term for second-degree burglary, was in police protective custody.

Hurd also praised Alioto for handling the meeting with Harris and criticized those who said the mayor's involvement was motivated by his campaign for governor.

Telephone Talks Underway

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unions representing nearly 750,000 telephone workers are seeking big pay hikes in the first round of major labor negotiations since the expiration of government wage-price controls.

Negotiations opening today with the giant American Telephone & Telegraph Co. are expected to have a major economic impact since any settlement is likely to result in higher telephone bills.

"We will be seeking economic justice for our members . . . to help catch up and keep up with rising costs," the AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America said in ads placed today in various newspapers as part of a campaign to win public support for its bargaining goals.

The CWA, with 500,000 Bell System workers, is the largest of the unions involved in the talks. Also taking part is the AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, representing 140,000 employes, and the Alliance of Independent Telephone Unions with about 100,000 workers.

They will negotiate their contracts on a nationwide basis for the first time.

Both labor and management hope the national bargaining approach will eliminate the regional dissatisfactions of the kind that produced a seven-month strike of New York telephone workers in 1971-72 after other union members had accepted a wage settlement.

Three years ago, the CWA won a three-year wage-and-benefit package totaling 33.5 per cent, largest in the industry's history, after a six-day strike.

But telephone workers, like the rest of the nation, have lost more than 4 per cent of their buying power over the past year alone in the worst inflation since the Korean War. The nation's major wage hikes last year averaged 5.8 per cent under government controls, which expired April 30.

Speaker Albert's Wife Is Rescued From Fire

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The wife of House Speaker Carl Albert was rescued from her bedroom during a fire in the couple's 11th-floor apartment early today, firemen said.

Acting Battalion Chief John H. Bourne said Mrs. Mary Albert suffered "a knot on the head" after Pvt. Walter Lewis rescued her amid heavy smoke. She refused hospital treatment, Bourne said.

Albert was reported in New York making a speech Tuesday night.

Bourne said the fire broke out about midnight and was reported by a neighbor. He said firemen had to break down the door and that Lewis carried Mrs. Albert from the bedroom where she had been sleeping. It was not immediately known how she suffered the injury.

Bourne said there was heavy smoke and water damage in the two-bedroom apartment at 4101 Cathedral Ave. N.W.

He said the fire apparently started on the couch and a coffee table in the living room, but said it was not yet known how it started.

Lewis, interviewed by phone, said Mrs. Albert was "in a semi-conscious condition — she was out in the bed" when he arrived.

"I couldn't see her for the smoke," he said. "I ran to the bed and felt her leg and saw the rest of her body. She appeared to be dead. But she moved a little bit and I grabbed her and ran out of the apartment."

Minority Uncertainties

Disgruntlement over inflation was used by Canada's House of Commons as the excuse for toppling Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau's government. That alone scarcely justifies the action, in a world where inflation is epidemic and few governments have been able to stem it.

This suggests that the vote of no-confidence was prompted by other reasons as well. There has been much tugging and hauling among various parties over the past 17 months as Trudeau's Liberal party strove to govern without a parliamentary majority. Provincial and inter-party rivalries have played a major part in denying Canada the firm majority government it needs.

These rivalries will be much in evidence between now and the mandated election, expected to take place on July 8. The Progressive Conservative party, headed by Robert L. Stanfield, will be straining every nerve to pull off what they narrowly missed in 1972 — the upset of the Trudeau regime. Formidable opposition also will come from David Lewis, the long-time Socialist who is leader of the New Democratic party.

They and the much less powerful Social Credit party under Real Caouette can be expected to grind their particular axes and at the same time play variations on the theme of Trudeau's failure to hold down inflation. It does not appear likely that any party will win a parliamentary majority. Thus the uncertainties that go with minority government seem bound to continue, whether or not Trudeau's Liberals retain their edge.

Intriguing Proposal

The idea of postcard voter registration for national elections is an intriguing proposal. Implemented with adequate safeguards against fraud, it might do a great deal to increase participation in the democratic process.

We therefore think it a pity that consideration of this bill has in effect been blocked by a House vote on proposed ground rules for debate. The measure, passed by the Senate last year, ought to be considered on its merits.

Misgivings about voter registration by mail do come to mind, but claims that the system would cause administrative chaos and invite massive fraud strike us as exaggerated. Moreover, it seems that the bill's provisions for stiff penalties would discourage widespread abuse. Attracting the greatest possible number of voters to the polls is an important goal. The House has done ill to shrug off the matter. It should be debated, and voted on.

Solar Energy Flaw

The overall congressional response to the energy crisis has fallen well short of what the situation demands. In one respect, however, Congress seems to be suiting action to the need. It appears that an enormous increase in federal support of research on energy resources and development will be authorized.

The House vote on an energy research bill is a measure of the feeling that a vigorous program is required. By an all but unanimous 392-4, the House approved the expenditure of 2.27 billion dollars for such purposes in the coming fiscal year. That is almost 70 per cent more than is being spent this year.

When it comes to the allocation of this money, some doubts arise. It is arguable that too many of the eggs are going into one basket. The Atomic Energy Commission will have the disposal of one and a half billions, more than half of the total authorization. Most of its share will be poured into further development of the so-called fast breeder reactor, a marked improvement over current reactor technology.

The question is as to the wisdom of focusing so intensely on this one means of providing nuclear energy at the expense of other promising energy sources. That question takes on special weight in view of charges that the AEC has deliberately played down the conclusion by reputable scientists that a massive increase in solar research would be justifiable.

The use of the research funds will be diversified to some extent. The AEC will continue work on the rather distant prospect of harnessing the hydrogen fusion reaction. The Interior Department will study various things, including gasification and liquefaction of coal. All this is good; ultimately we will benefit by such expenditures. But the unfortunate impression remains that for somewhat obscure reasons one of the most promising of all potential major energy resources, solar power, is getting short shrift.

Ineptness May Not Help Nixon

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — With the House impeachment hearings in full swing, the mighty, 101-member staff still hasn't completed its homework.

We reported last January that the lawyers hadn't interviewed a single witness, that many staff members were assigned merely to answer routine impeachment mail and that some investigators spent their time reading newspapers and novels.

The pace picked up only slightly as the hearings approached. Not until the last few weeks have major Watergate figures been interviewed. Sources close to the investigation say the interviews have been inept and inadequate.

For instance, silent, stoic G. Gordon Liddy, the mastermind of the Watergate break-in, recently was ushered into the committee headquarters in handcuffs.

As he entered the long, sterile hallway, Liddy was directed to sign the log book. True to form, he refused to write his name until his lawyer persuaded him to relent. The only information Liddy gave the investigators was his signature accompanied by a note to the effect he had signed "only on advice of counsel and under duress."

His co-conspirator, E. Howard Hunt, who demanded and got White House hush money, caused a stir when he appeared before committee investigators. One young aide asked Hunt to autograph a copy of one of his spy novels. Hunt noted that the book was stamped the property of the Library of Congress. The staff member pleaded with him to sign anyway and Hunt grudgingly gave his autograph.

When the staff hauled in the President's personal attorney, Herbert Kalmbach, the atmosphere again was more that of a carnival than a serious inquiry. Kalmbach's presence caused so much excitement that the interview was constantly interrupted by committee employes entering and leaving the room.

Other Watergate figures, such as Jeb Magruder and Judge Matthew Byrne, have been interviewed. But the investigators still haven't gotten around to some key witnesses. For example, aerosol valve king Robert Abplanalp, a presidential crony and financial benefactor, hasn't appeared before the staff.

But the poor preparation probably won't prevent impeachment. The members of Congress are political weathervanes and the winds of impeachment have shifted against the President. A reluctant Congress, it now appears, may be forced by an angry nation to impeach the President.

POLITICAL FOOTBALL: Among the confidential documents that the Watergate investigators have now obtained from the White House is a report on an amazing scheme to recruit pro football stars for President Nixon's 1972 campaign team.

The President's political aides tried to get the football heroes who had recorded antidrug commercials to do political commercials for Nixon.

"The Great Fumble," as the play might be called, was literally halted at the White House gates. The story is told in a confidential campaign memo from Hebert Porter to his boss, deputy campaign chief Jeb Magruder.

The political image makers had been building up Nixon as the nation's No. 1 football fan. Porter on the eve of the 1972 campaign "instructed Bill Minshall to put together a plan on how to build a list of sports celebrities and athletes who might support the President."

Young Minshall, a campaign aide and son of Rep. William Minshall, R-Ohio, "in his eagerness to get a job done," decided to line up football stars who had volunteered to appear on antidrug TV spots.

"Minshall . . . felt that the football players participating in the televised Drug Abuse Program would be the logical persons to add to the list . . . ." wrote Porter. "He telephoned the offices of Commissioner Pete Rozelle . . . (to get) the names of the players participating in the drug abuse commercials."

The word got back to the White House's Bill Rhatican, who had labored to keep the antidrug commercials tough, effective and, above all, nonpolitical. He angrily called up Nixon campaign headquarters and roared: "Keep your (expletive deleted) hands out of this thing!"

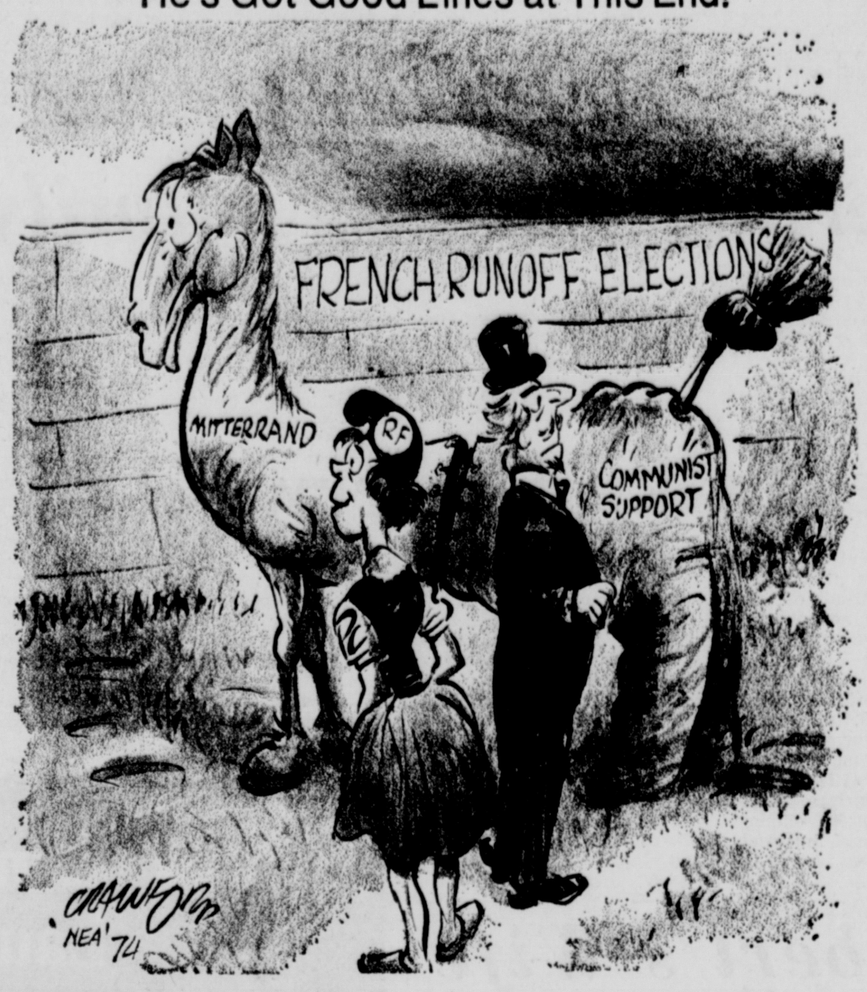

Porter backed down and wrote Rhatican a note of apology, blaming it all on "an 'overzealous' staff member." But this didn't cool the zeal of the campaign aides. Early in 1972, they learned that President Nixon was holding a reception for the athletes who had made the TV spots.

The campaign aides rushed the two blocks to the White House gate and sought admission. Their plan was to button hole the athletes right under the President's nose and sign them to work on the Nixon campaign.

But once again, Rhatican intervened. He personally notified the White House guards not to clear the campaign officials through the White House gates. Only after they swore they would not try to proselytize the football stars were the aides finally admitted.

Footnote: A National Football League spokesman said the league strictly avoided any pressure on players to support candidates. Minshall, now working in New York, refused all comment. Rhatican confirmed the basic accuracy of the Porter memo. Porter was in prison on Watergate-related charges and could not be reached.

Inside Report

Barrier Raised High

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The stony barrier of noncommunication between the White House and Republican leaders in Congress, an important ingredient in the Watergate tragedy, was raised high recently against an eleventh-hour effort to confront President Nixon with reality.

Rep. John Anderson of Illinois, chairman of the House Republican conference, wanted to discuss the brutal facts of life at a White House meeting between Republican leaders and Mr. Nixon. Anderson's proposal: inform the President that his denial of additional tapes to the special prosecutor and the House Judiciary Committee had no Republican backing and could only end in his destruction.

But no other Republican leader backed Andersen even though most agreed with his sentiments. They took the position that the President alone should set the agenda for White House meetings — a view held particularly strongly by Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania. Having "fired the gun that started the Republican stampede against the President" (in the words of one bitter White House aide), Scott wanted no embarrassing personal encounter with Mr. Nixon.

The result was a surrealistic morning in the Oval Office. Nobody mentioned the nation's great political crisis. Although Mr. Nixon in private has raged at Scott for his lethal criticism of the White House transcripts, the two men sat side-by-side politely through a dreary economic briefing.

Anderson feels Watergate might well have been avoided had Mr. Nixon taken Republican leaders into his confidence. But for their part, the leaders' reluctance to confront the President indicates noncommunication is a two-way street. Both sides can share the blame.

Vindictive politics of the Nixon White House surfaced again in a gratuitous, grossly inaccurate attack by ex-White House personnel chief Harry Flemming on a young Republican candidate for Congress who committed the cardinal sin of not being blindly loyal to the President.

John Robinson West quit in disgust in mid-1969 after several months as a minor White House aide. Returning to Pennsylvania, West began preparing a Republican political career. Two weeks ago, West at age 27 was frontrunner (leading the regular organization candidate) in the Republican primary election for a congressional seat from Philadelphia's Republican suburbs.

But West's position was undermined when Flemming attacked him as a "walking disaster . . . who was all out for glory and self-aggrandizement" in Washington. Flemming told the Philadelphia Inquirer that West held "an unpaid position" and did nothing at the White House.

Politicians here were amazed that Flemming, a political protege of John Mitchell, would interfere in a Republican primary election. Far more serious, Flemming's vengeful assault was based on wholesale errors of fact.

West was not "unpaid" but on the payroll of the Republican National Committee and was assigned to the White Hosue after Mr. Nixon's inauguration. He was not "fired in March 1969 but resigned in June. His former boss, national committee political education director Ray Humphreys, described him to us as a "resourceful, energetic, ambitious young leader" of the type needed to rebuild the shattered Republican party.

Flemming's attack was one more example of the politics of vengeance played by White House insiders against anyone who refused to toe the line in the pre-Watergate glory days of Mr. Nixon's all-powerful White House staff.

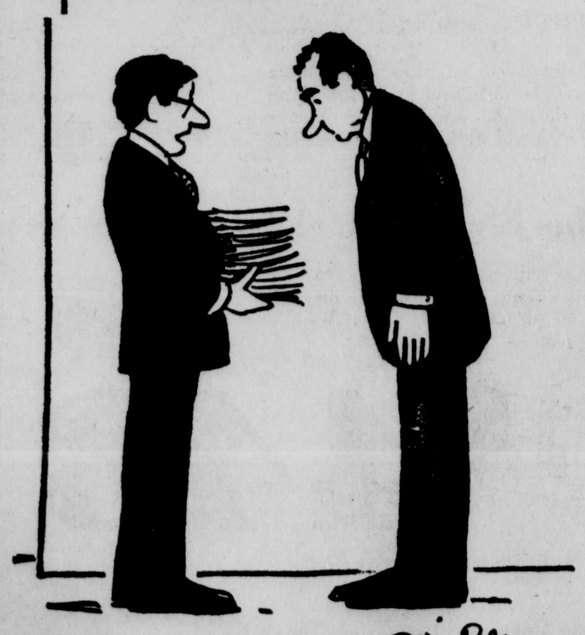

While Secretary of State Henry Kissinger strives for an Arab-Israeli settlement, a move is gathering force in the Senate to make American aid to Egypt dependent on Cairo's opening the Suez Canal to all nations equally — meaning Israel.

If such an amendment actually denied future U.S. aid to Egypt unless Cairo pledged to permit Israeli flagships to transverse the canal, Egypt would never agree. That could sour the Washington-Cairo romance. Even talk of such an amendment (now actively considered by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut and others) chills the State Department.

Actually, Israel has privately told the U.S. it will accept Egyptian agreement to permit Israeli cargoes (but not Israeli flagships) through the canal. Egyptian president Anwar Sadat has given private assurances of that.

But if the strongly pro-Israel Congress attached an amendment demanding free passage for Israeli flagships, the powerful pro-Israeli lobby here would scarcely oppose it. To the contrary, whatever private agreements Israel has made with Kissinger, a strong vote in Congress for Ribicoff's proposal would be viewed in Israel as a major gain in the high-stakes politics reaching a climax in the Middle East.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

The Voters Send A Message

A few weeks ago, in response to a note from Governor George Wallace of Alabama, I asked readers of this column to pick the man they think should be President of the United States in 1976.

It was not intended to be a scientific survey; I said I thought of Wallace as a "spoiler"; that is, one who lacks sufficient clout to be elected President, but with enough political weight to advise his millions of followers to vote for a Democratic or Republican nominee—and thus become a kingmaker.

My readers say that I am wrong. Mrs. Bishop opened 1,030 letters, tabulated them, and stopped. Votes were still coming in, but not in the big batches of the first few days. Here are the results:

Candidates	Votes	Pct.
Wallace	259	25.14
Kennedy	169	16.40
Jackson	137	13.30
Reagan	113	10.97
Rockefeller	88	8.54
Muskie	62	6.01
Ford	47	4.56
Baker	46	4.46
Percy	44	4.27
Mondale	32	3.10
Nixon	23	2.23
McGovern	10	0.97

This column is syndicated to newspapers from coast to coast, and the first thousand votes came from north, south, east and west. Wallace finished only three points behind the combined totals of the two stronger Democrats — Kennedy and Jackson — and six points ahead of the two strongest Republicans, Reagan and Rockefeller.

I made it abundantly apparent in the original column that, personally, Wallace has neither my support nor my admiration. If this influenced readers, then the governor's total should be higher.

In the years I spent writing politics, I learned to be wary of the generalizers: "I'm sending a message to Washington;" "Can you stand four more years of this?" or McGovern's notion of rebating $1,000 to taxpayers.

The Alabaman had some strength in every state, but his heaviest votes came from North Carolina and Florida. They poured it on. When you add the Wallace vote to that of the four Democrats who trailed him — Kennedy, Jackson, Muskie and McGovern — the Democrats have 61.82 per cent of the total. The Republicans got 36.68 per cent. Mondale, of the Democratic Farm-Labor group, drew 3.10 per cent.

Wallace, a shoo-in for governor of Alabama, has been drawing away from the racial issue. In Alabama, he now enjoys the support of some black officials. Montgomery, however, is a long way from such places as Harlem and Watts, and, from the standpoint of the sophisticated Negro, it is more than geography.

The fact that he was crippled by an assassin's bullet will not, I feel, hurt whatever chances he has. It didn't hurt Franklin Roosevelt. What might hurt Wallace is that so much surgery has drained him of emotional strength. He still shouts the same words: ". . . those Federal bureaucrats up in Washington, with nothing but peanut butter sandwiches in their briefcases, are trying to tell us a thousand miles away down here in Alabama how to run our business."

It goes over big with the yokel thigh-slappers. But will not his rivals throw the same line in his teeth when he aspires to run all the states from the Oval Office? He must also ask himself how much reserve strength he has to campaign at all the whistle-stops.

Ted Kennedy is nine points behind the governor, but the Senator is acting coy. He is making speeches everywhere from Moscow to Phoenix and he doesn't need that spread to run for Senator in Massachusetts.

But then, all of them are coy. Gerald Ford says he will never run for office again. Politicians in Birmingham say that Wallace is taking dead aim on the Presidency in hopes of becoming the Vice Presidential nominee.

One of the things I learned from this poll is that American voters have cast-iron opinions. They not only told me who they would vote for, but why. This may be the only opinion poll which was accompanied by strong letters.

What the readers think and say must be important to all columnists. To give you an idea of what the voters feel, I will publish an entire column of political opinions the next time we meet.

Please ask your editor to print it on asbestos . . .

Election Reform Bill . . . Impact Not Yet Clear

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The sweeping new campaign law approved by the legislature should have a profound impact on politics in New York State.

But whether the impact will be consistent with the bill's reform-oriented intentions is not yet clear.

The measure, approved overwhelmingly in both houses Monday, sets sharp limits on campaign spending, individual contributions and candidates' own spending on campaigns—just the kind of divorce from "big money" politics that everybody has been advocating in this year of Watergate.

But ironically, the "reform" bill's major impact may be to strengthen the hand of the regular party machines and leaders in state politics—at the expense of the politicians who usually think of themselves as reformers.

AP Analysis

The reason is that with the "big money" contributors effectively removed from politics, the only remaining, reliable source of political strength for would-be candidates could be the party organizations.

The bill limits an individual's contribution to a candidate to 1 per cent of the candidate's total spending in a statewide race, or 10 per cent in other races.

Those limits may be low enough to prevent any one contributor from "buying" the candidate. But they may be enough to prevent a candidate with a few friends, who have money to spend on something in which they believe from mounting an effective challenge to established politicians.

This is not simply a theoretical problem.

Nelson Rockefeller was able to win the Republican nomination for governor in 1958—and in the process, profoundly change the state Republican party—only because he had vast financial resources independent of the traditional Republican funds controlled by party leaders.

Howard Samuels is today in a position to capture the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, which the party leaders are sorely reluctant to give him, only because of his independent financial resources. The same can be said of dozens of other candidates in races against political establishments, large and small, across the state.

The party organizations will continue to have access to small contributions from the faithful for whom they have found jobs. They will still be able to offer their candidates manpower and other resources essentially beyond the reach of the spending limits in the legislature's new bill.

Perhaps the only way out of this dilemma—between big-money politics on the one hand and machine politics on the other—is some sort of public financing of campaigns. This, the legislators were clearly unwilling to allow.

But in years to come, the reformers who voted for the new campaign bill may find that it was their undoing.

And they may understand why all the regular party figures — Republicans and Democrats alike—voted for this "reform" bill in such overwhelming numbers.

Chou Showing Signs Of Stepping Aside

HONG KONG (UPI) — Premier Chou En-lai, complaining of being old and "not very well," has given some signs he might step aside after 25 years at the summit of power in China.

The 75-year-old revolutionary, China's only premier since the Communists seized power in 1949, has been conspicuously missing at recent state functions.

China analysts have been debating whether the apparent withdrawal was voluntary or at least partially forced on the aging premier.

When Chou failed to appear at a banquet for visiting Senegalese President Leopold Senghor early this month, Chinese officials scoffed at speculation the absence was caused by political reasons.

The officials said Chou was tired and could not keep up with his schedule.

Less than a week later, Chou failed to appear at the airport to greet visiting Prime Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto of Pakistan.

He went to Bhutto's guest house shortly after the Pakistanis' arrival and joined in talks between Bhutto and Chairman Mao Tse-tung. But Chou missed two banquets for Bhutto and some of the political negotiations.

"I am not very well because I am old," Chou explained to Bhutto.

Advancing age was a problem facing many Chinese leaders.

Mao is 80. Two of the remaining 24 members of the party's powerful Politburo are 88 and one is 82. Vice Premiers Teng Hsiao-ping and Li Hsien-nien, who seem to be taking over some of Chou's functions, are 70.

Despite the large numbers of aged leaders, China watchers have increasingly speculated about Chou being a prime target in China's current political struggle.

The conflict revolves around a campaign launched early this year against the ancient sage Confucius and Lin Piao, the former defense minister who died in an alleged plot to kill Mao and seize power in 1971.

One of the most hotly debated issues among China specialists was whether the attacks on Confucius were really veiled criticisms of Chou.

In addition, some of Chou's political rivals have increased attacks against some of the premier's key policies, such as easing tensions with the United States, increasing reliance on capitalist technology and adopting more pragmatic economic programs.

Student Life On Display

RHINEBECK — Almost every aspect of high school student life at Rhinebeck Central School will be on display tonight in a loosely-collated program entitled "RCS in Action."

Mrs. Sid Ayres, chairman, said that the evening will involve most school departments, organizations, and student participants.

Exhibits in the main hall will be present from the following departments: art, home economics, industrial arts, computer, mathematics, language, English, and BOCES.

Science displays will be held in the science department; music and physical education will be held in the gymnasium; and the audio-visual department will supply lighting effects and the public address systems.

Beginning at 7:30 p.m., visitors may browse the exhibits; the music department, under the direction of Jack Shackleton, will offer several selections at 8 p.m.; girls in the physical education department, under the direction of Mrs. Ayers, will offer gymnastics, dances and related activities; and the boys physical education department will sponsor wrestling matches under the direction of Lawrence Burud and Kenneth Babineau.

Seminars Slated In Woodstock

WOODSTOCK — A series of five seminars on sewerage for Woodstock will be held Thursday 8 p.m. at the Craftsman's Guild Hall on the Green.

The first meeting Thursday, May 16, will deal with community decision making. A panel will be composed of Verner May, Town suprvisor; Malcom Rose, planning board chairman and Barry Schuttler, professional community organizer. Schuttler is a specialist of a process which emphasizes particiaption of all members of the community in decision making. The process, called charrette, involves high-intensity problem solving, group meetings.

The seminars are being organized by the Woodstock Center, Woodstock Community Video, Sunshine Design and Riverby. The seminars are open to the public free of charge. Requests for contributions are being made to meet space costs and for taping expense. Contributions are tax deductible and may be sent to either Woodstock Community Video or the Woodstock Center, Woodstock 12498.

NAACP Affair Set Saturday

KINGSTON — The Ulster County Chapter of the NAACP will hold its annual fund raising dinner-dance at the Gov. Clinton Hotel Saturday night beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets are available from Everette Hodge, president of the association, or at the door. A buffet will be served at 10 p.m.

Monies raised will be used to support NAACP activities among which is the donation of some $4,000 in scholarships to area community colleges for local youth.

COMPLETE ASSESSOR COURSE — Several town assessors were recently awarded "certificates of training by the State Board of Equalization and Assessment for completion of a course in assessment administration and property valuation. Left, Paul Pavlovich, Saugerties; Joseph Lohmaier, Ulster and Martin Leskow, Woodstock.

City Police Investigating Two Burglaries

KINGSTON — Officers with the Kingston Police Department discovered two burglaries early today while on routine patrol on Broadway.

At 1:33 a. m. patrolmen found glass broken in a door at the French Dye Works, 524 Broadway. Later, at about 5:15 a. m. evidence of an entry was found at the Colonial Lounge, 589 Broadway.

Detectives, who were called in to investigate the entries, said a portable television, valued at $125, and an unknown quantity of change from a cash drawer were missing at the French Dye Works.

Detectives said the burglar or burglars pried open a juke box and a pin ball machine at the Colonial Lounge and removed change from the machine. Cash from the cash register was also taken.

Investigation of both cases is continuing.

Two Youths Are Arrested

KINGSTON — Two Town of Esopus youths were arrested today by city police after they allegedly kicked in a window of the F. W. Woolworth Company at 311 Wall Street.

Charged with criminal mischief in the fourth degree were Albert Latorre Jr., 19, of Box 380, Sleightsburg, and Robert Hayes, 19, of 156 Doris Street, Port Ewen.

They were scheduled to appear in city court today.

The incident occurred at about 3:30 a.m., police said.

Dance Scheduled

American Legion Post 1512 will hold its annual Poppy Dance Saturday, in Stone Ridge, from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. Tom Filocco and his Music Makers will play, and a Poppy King and Queen will be selected. The public is invited.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Ralph Van Kleeck, who passed away two years ago May 15, 1972.
The depth of sorrow we cannot tell
Of the loss of one we loved so well.
And while he sleeps a peaceful sleep,
His memory we shall always keep.

Volkswagen...In Trouble at Home and Abroad

BONN, Germany (AP) — Volkswagen, the flagship of West German industry, is in trouble at home and abroad.

Rudolf Leiding, chairman of Volkswagenwerk AG, says the company has a backlog of 472,000 unsold vehicles and lost $35 million in the first quarter of 1974. It was a sharp turnaround from 1973, when profits after taxes totaled $88 million.

Sales in the United States in the first quarter totaled 120,960 cars, a drop of 27.7 per cent from the same period in 1973. Demand was down 18 per cent in West Germany and 25 per cent in other European markets.

Spiraling costs in a highly inflationary price and labor market have hit Germany's biggest automobile company hard. The company is also troubled by changing tastes in Germany, competition on the American market from small U.S. cars, the oil squeeze and rising insurance premiums and repair costs.

To recoup its financial losses, Volkswagen had ordered price increases of about 6 per cent effective March 11 in Germany. But the federal antitrust office is threatening to roll the rises back and will examine the price increases in a public hearing May 24.

Employing 161,000 persons in Germany and 54,000 more abroad, Volkswagen is a bellwether of the German economic scene. Its troubles, which have meant some temporary layoffs, have set off alarms all through the economy.

Leiding claims new models will help the company's position. A week ago, it announced production of a new car called Golf—with a water-cooled, front-wheel-drive engine. But a spokesman stressed that the Beetle—history's best selling car—will continue to be produced in large numbers. The firm announced Feb. 17 that it had produced 15,007,032.

The United States is by far Volkswagen's largest export market, and Leiding told a news conference that "we can hold the American market over the long run only if we assemble there or later even produce there." A final decision on a U.S. plant is being deferred until fall, however.

Such a plant—which one VW official said would require $1.3 billion to $1.7 billion in financing—would reduce transport costs and exchange rate expenses that now hurt the VW's competitive position against small American cars.

Leiding denied Volkswagen is talking with American car companies about a partnership or is considering buying an old U.S. car factory.

Company executives said they would like to see larger sales in other foreign countries to reduce the dependence on the American market. They are looking at such places as Nigeria, Yugoslavia, Iran and Romania, where the the tough little Beetle might do well.

Poker Series...'Friendly It's Not'

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) When the likes of W.C. "Puggy Wuggy" Pearson, Thomas "Amarillo Slim" Preston and "Iron Man" Smith sit down for a friendly little game, you can bet it's not friendly and it's not little.

Pearson, Preston and the mysterious Smith—he won't give his real name or say where he's from—will join another nine or 10 professional gamblers tonight in a game of "hold 'em." The game is a form of stud poker that's the featured attraction at the fifth annual world series of poker.

The winner will walk away with $10,000 from each of the dozen or so card sharps playing. Pearson, last year's winner, netted a record $165,000, $120,000 of it from the hold 'em game. Preston won the year before and earned a tidy $60,000.

Hold 'em is a form of 7-card stud in which each player is dealt two cards face down and the rest of the hand is played with a communal set of cards dealt face up in the middle of the table. The game continues until one player has all the money, with breaks only for eating and sleeping.

Pearson has been a professional gambler for more than 20 years. He thinks he's had a great life, but wouldn't recommend it to anyone else.

He failed to win any of the preliminary games last week and complained that he's been "a little bit off" in recent months.

"I don't know whether I'd say I'm feeling confident or not," said the 46-year-old self-described hustler. "I have to say that at this stage I'm not feeling too confident.

"The toughest thing of all is yourself. If you can't manage yourself you can't win in the first place."

The world series of poker is sponsored by a Las Vegas club.

Kingston Trust announces an important new service for the most important people we know

THE VIP BANK ACCOUNT

The Bank's VIP Bank Account gives our customers all these vital banking services in one super-convenient account.

CHECKING. Your VIP account includes a non-minimum-balance checking account. You receive personalized checks in your choice of five colors and three styles. And you can cash checks up to $100 without any delays at any office of The Bank. Should you need more money than you have in your account, The Bank earmarks a reserve — from $500 to $5,000 — for your use. You simply write yourself a loan by writing a check.

A VIP STATEMENT. Every month, you get a single easy-to-understand statement. Soon, we'll even list your checks in the sequence that you write them, so when you balance your checkbook everything will be in order.

SAFE DEPOSIT BOX. Part of the value of your VIP account is a place at The Bank to store your valuables. As a bonus for VIP customers we're offering our 2" x 5" x 24" size box free where available.

MASTER CHARGE*. Your VIP account includes a special Master Charge card that distinguishes you as a special customer of The Bank. Your VIP Master Charge card entitles you to get a cash advance at any office of The Bank.

TRAVELER'S SERVICES. As a very important customer and a VIP account holder, you can obtain Traveler's Checks — and buy or sell any foreign currency — without service charges. We'll also send you announcements of how you can take some great bargain trips.

OTHER BANKING SERVICES. Whenever you need important services such as money orders, official bank checks, certification, or a notary public, they're yours without service charge — because you're our VIP customer.

It's all these vital banking services — all in one place: your VIP account. We think it's the best, most complete banking service around.

Your VIP account will make your banking a lot easier, and it can make it less expensive. You might be paying more for fewer services now.

For more information, stop in or telephone any office of The Bank.

SAVINGS ACCOUNT. As part of your VIP account, you get a VIP day-of-deposit to day-of-withdrawal savings account, with interest paid on balances over $10. At your option there can be convenient automatic transfers into your savings account from your checking account.

PREFERRED INTEREST RATES. Because you're a VIP customer, The Bank offers you VIP rates. Whenever you get a personal installment loan of a thousand dollars or more, you'll be charged an annual percentage rate below the prevailing rate of interest.

*Normal Finance Charges Prevail on Master Charge.

A&P Names Consumer Head

NEW YORK — Barbara Doran Sullivan of New York City has been appointed by the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, Inc. to the newly-created post of national director of Consumer Affairs in an expansion of A&P Consumer relations activities.

John H. Cairns Jr. vice-president-merchandising and national director of sales, announced that Mrs. Sullivan, who previously served in a similar capacity with Kayser-Roth's Armo Division, assumed her new office at company headquarters May 6.

Cairns said Mrs. Sullivan, a former food and cookbook editor for Good Housekeeping magazine, was selected to develop and direct programs that will enable A&P to relate more closely to customer interests and to serve as the consumer's advocate within the company.

Activities of the new director of Consumer Affairs will involve A&P's 31 Divisions and 3,650 stores in 33 states, the District of Columbia and Canada and will include such areas of responsibility as product development, packaging, advertising and store layout as well as consumer organizations and agencies.

A native of Boston, Mrs. Sullivan holds a home economics degree from Regis College with post graduate study at Boston University in New York at the New School of Social Research. Prior to joining Good Housekeeping, she was a home economics teacher in Wellesley, Mass. She also formerly was assistant director of Consumer Education for Textron's Talon Division.

A&P has a store in the Kingston, N.Y. area located on East Chester Street Bypass, near the intersection of Ulster Avenue Mall.

NAA to Meet Next Monday

ROYAL RIDE—Al Zangrillo (R) of the Royal Tire Service, 15 Railroad Avenue, discusses Uniroyal's new steel belted radial tire with W. Herbert Schmaltz, president of Uniroyal Tire Company. They met during a recent dealer meeting in Long Island where a clearly-defined performance rating program aimed to eliminate consumer confusion on tires was announced. Zangrillo and Schmalz hold cutaway model of Uniroyal's new steel belted radia tire — labeled so puncture-resistant that it can be run over a razor-sharp three inch pipe at 20 miles per hour without a loss of air.

Discover the next generation of freeze-dried coffee. And save 18¢, too!

NEW MAXIM.® The first freeze-dried coffee that smells like fresh ground-tastes like fresh perked.

You know the wonderful aroma that fills a room when freshly roasted coffee beans are ground? Other freeze-dried coffees let that aroma escape.

But Maxim's coffee experts found the way to capture it. New Maxim smells like fresh ground coffee. And because Maxim smells better—it tastes better. Like fresh perked coffee.

A special note from Miss Patricia Neal

"I never thought I'd find a coffee I would like better than Maxim. But I have! It's new Maxim. What's new? Just smell it.

"New Maxim smells like fresh ground coffee. And because it smells better—it tastes better. Like fresh perked coffee.

"My husband thinks new Maxim is fabulous. Now, I don't always agree with him. But this time he is absolutely right."

Patricia Neal

37 C-H Employes In Quarter Century

POUGHKEEPSIE — Thirty-seven employes of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp., including 11 from Ulster County, who have completed 25 years of service during the past year were inducted into the utility's Quarter Century Club recently.

Ceremonies took place during the organization's 28th annual meeting at the Poughkeepsie Elks Club on Overrocker Road with 325 members attending.

Ward H. Tompkins of Hyde Park, club president, noted that the organization now consists of 266 active and 229 retired employes. Their combined service totals about 16,000 years.

the 11 new Ulster County members include:

Kingston — John W. Lancer, Frank W. Lyle, Frederick H. Pattner, Douglas H. Tyler.

Port Ewen — L. Dwight Barker.

Rifton — Philip W. Stokes, Raymond P. Tresvik.

New Paltz — Herbert S. Van Siclen, Charles H. Staats.

Highland — Robert A. Post.

Marlboro — Norman J. Stellefson.

Other inductees included:

Rhinebeck — Peter Zitz Jr., Charles E. Rider.

Poughkeepsie — William R. Aberle, Donald A. Brewster, Elliott A. Coons, Arnold G. Frazier, Joseph F. Furlong Jr., Stewart P. Laidlaw, Gabriel A. Mazzillo, James F. Moore, Mary A. Shea, Charles F. Whiteley.

John F. Evans of Wappingers Falls was installed as president for the coming year. Francis W. Peters, Poughkeepsie, was installed as vice-president; Harold M. West, Modena, secretary and Thomas L. Contursi, Hyde Park, treasurer.

Po'keepsie Savings . . . Managers for Hyde Park

POUGHKEEPSIE — Two members of the Poughkeepsie Savings Bank have been named to head the new office in the Mall at Hyde Park. George McCornac was elected branch manager and James Devine was appointed assistant branch manager. The announcement was made by Charles B. Grubb, president of the bank.

McCornac started with the bank in 1953 as a teller at the 21 Market Street office. He became the assistant branch manager of the Main Street and Innis Avenue office in 1970. When the Hudson Plaza office opened in 1972, McCornac was elected manager of the evening division, a position he held up until now. He is also an assistant treasurer of the bank, elected to that position in January of 1973.

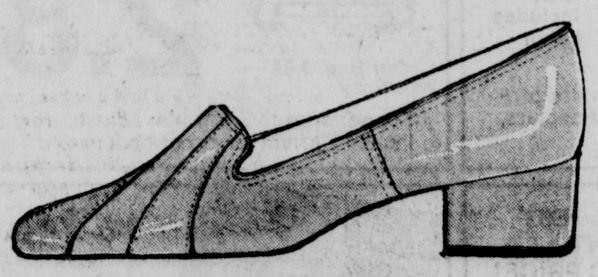

McCornac served 18 months with the Army in Korea just prior to joining the bank. He is a member of the Florentine Council of the Knights of Columbus, and the Children's Theater of Dutchess County. Recently, he attended the school for branch managers at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst. He and his wife, Mary, reside at 17 Greenbush Drive in the town of Hyde Park.

Devine started with the bank in February of 1972 as a teller at the 21 Market Street office. He then moved to the main street and Innis Avenue office where he has been a teller until this most recent promotion.

Devine graduated from Poughkeepsie High School in 1966, and attended Dutchess Community College. He joined the Army in 1968 and served for three years, including a tour of duty in Vietnam as a first lieutenant. He is currently enrolled in the Dutchess Community College Evening Division, where he is majoring in Business Administration. Devine holds the office of First Vice Commander in the American Legion.

He and his wife, Linda, reside in the Chelsea Ridge Apartments in Wappingers Falls.

Kingston City Electric Has Light Answers

CHICAGO

Your home's outside lighting should speak both of these opposite messages — "welcome" to friends and family and "keep out" to intruders — advises the American Home Lighting Institute (AHLI).

Wise and responsible use of outdoor lighting means making sure that you have adequate lighting and in the right places, not simply avoiding waste of watts, lighting advisors point out.

The same entry or porch lighting that enables you to see who's at your door can present a friendly glow and attractive designs to welcome visitors and also help repel strangers of dubious motives.

The same patio, terrace or garden lighting that enables you to entertain outdoors with parties or games or to enjoy landscaping beauties also can serve for security when the grounds are deserted.

The same lighting that makes for safe footing along paths and steps also can please the eye with pools of luminous beauty.

It works both ways. Lighting for security and safety can provide beauty and enjoyment. Lighting for beauty and enjoyment can provide security and safety.

A variety of lighting fixtures, carefully chosen, strategically placed, and properly controlled with switches, will give you the amount of light you need at various times, no more, and no less.

Finding the right combination of outdoor lighting for safety, security, beauty, fun and energy conservation is simplified with the help of training lighting consultants on the staffs of showrooms qualified as AHLI "Lights for Living Centers" members.

No homeowner can afford to have dimly lighted entries, garages or steps which invite prowlers and vandals. One Indiana town which recently turned out street lights to conserve energy turned them back on when crime shot up.

For protection, your lighting should include:

At the main entrance, a pair of wall-mounted 60-watt fixtures flanking the door.

At all other doors, at least one 60-watt hanging or wall-mounted fixture.

In the garage or carport, a 100-watt bulb at each side of the parking area, and three lights in a two-car garage. Switches should be located near the door, and car lights should be kept on until the light switch is reached.

For security floodlighting, weather-resistant 150-watt floodlamps mounted high under the eaves of house, activated by a switch within the home. (They can also light up for sports.)

For steps and walks — a post lamp or near-the-ground fixtures casting light down for safe ground fixtures walking.

Whenever possible, select your outdoor lighting to provide a pleasing view from within the home as well. Then your garden will become an extension of the living space — usable and enjoyable at all seasons of the year. And your home will be surrounded with the reassuring safety and protection of light.

Best thing to happen to salads since dressing.

Joan Fontaine, film star and gourmet cook.

But now you can give new life to those dull salads with Arnold Salad Fixin's.
Salad Fixin's are crunchy little croutons, bits of cheese, plus a blend of special herbs and spices. They make any dressing a special dressing.
So, shake on some Arnold Salad Fixin's—French Onion, Danish Bleu Cheese or Spicey Italian Style—and say goodbye to dull salads.

UCCC Labor Seminar

STONE RIDGE

A one-day Seminar on Improving Relations Through Effective Procedures will be held at the Stone Ridge compus of Ulster County Community College on Saturday, June 1.

The seminar is being sponsored by the Labor Institute at the college which was established in a cooperative effort with the New York State School of Industrial and Labor Relations at Cornell University.

This one-day seminar, to run from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., is designed for managers and supervisors who are interested in reducing on-the-job grievances. May 24 is the registration deadline.

The seminar will be conducted by Ira Asherman, a management consultant specializing in manpower development and training. He has done graduate work at the Industrial and Labor Relations School at Cornell University and formerly was assistant director of labor relations for R. H. Macy and Co.

The program content of the seminar will include management rights, grievance handling, arbitration, discipline and discharge. Special attention will be placed on improving the participant's skills in the two key areas of analyzing grievances and conducting grievance handling interviews.

Practice exercises and small group discussions will be held to highlight real life practical applications to on-the-job problems.

Further information about the seminar may be obtained by calling the Office for Continuing Education at the college.

Lectour Spaces Open

Spaces are still available on a lectour Ulster County Community College is running to Old Sturbridge Village in Massachusetts Wednesday, June 12.

The registration deadline is May 29.

The tour group will leave the Stone Ridge campus at 7:30 a.m. via bus and return about 8 p m.

Participants will visit a famous recreated New England farming village of a century and a half ago. Dominating the village green is the meetinghouse, which was used for worship and town meetings. Around the green are clustered the general store, homes and shops where skilled craftsmen work at colonial trades.

The 200-acre village consists of nearly 40 original buildings moved from different sections of New England to the site. Horse-drawn vehicles provide the only transportation. Hosts and hostesses are in period dresses.

YOUNG LEADERSHIP COMMITTEE — Members of the United Jewish Appeal's newly-formed Young Leadership committee, meet to plan activities for this year's fund raising campaign. United Jewish Appeal

Young Adult Division Formed

KINGSTON

The local chapter of United Jewish Appeal has announced the formation this year of a Young Leadership Division, which will attempt to contact all the young Jewish adults in the area for their cooperation and financial support for the 1974 fund drive.

Organized by Rabbi Jonathan Eichhorn and Richard Kalish, the new division will be headed by Dr. Joseph Cohen, a Kingston optometrist.

In a statement from the local UJA chapter, it was noted: "Last year's October Yom Kippur War had a profound effect on both Israel and the American Jewish community. The sense of confidence which had sustained Israel through 25 difficult and trying years underwent a severe jolt. The almost complete isolation of Israel on the International scene became quite apparent. The United Jewish Appeal organized an emergency campaign to raise the necessary monies needed for economic and medical relief and assistance. The local 1974 UJA campaign has now begun, with the Middle East situation still unresolved. Assistance to Israel is still the number one priority of the UJA."

The statement continued, "Young Leadership Divisions have been very successful in other communities in raising much needed funds for Israel and other important Jewish philanthropies, in training future Jewish community leaders, and in stimulating Jewish adults, young and old, to take more seriously the aims and purposes of UJA.

Persons interested in assisting the Young Leadership Division should contact Dr. Cohen, or his co-chairmen, Marlene Goldfarb and Jack Siller.

Hudson Bike Tour Planned

KINGSTON

"The Hudson River Hundred" is more akin to the Indianapolis 500 than the Chicago Eight, but you need a topnotch bicycle for this enterprise.

"Hundred" refers to 100 miles; actually the June 16 course planned for a mass bicycle tour stretches for 100.3 miles through some of the most scenic countryside on both sides of the Hudson River.

Joe Ellis, chairman of the Ulster Cycling Club's first "Hudson River Hundred," has announced that all cyclist who are physically, psychologically and mechanically prepared for the ride are cordially invited to attend an informational meeting tonight, 7:30 p.m., at the Kingston YMCA on Broadway.

The ride is planned to feature several views of the Hudson; two river crossings at Catskill and Poughkeepsie; a trip through Woodstock; a visit to the Roosevelt and Vanderbilt mansions, national historic sites; and "spectacular" views of the Catskill and Shawangunk Mountains. Much of the route winds through rural Ulster and Greene Counties, through old villages and past many farms.

The June 16 ride will be changed to June 23 in the event of severe weather conditions. Starting point will be Dietz stadium in Kingston at 7 a.m.

Riders are expected to have their bikes in top shape and be prepared to make minor repairs along the routes if necessary.

The "century" run has been a traditional test of endurance and stamina of hardy cyclists since the 1880s, and is expected to be completed within 12 hours, not a difficult feat for those in good physical condition.

Fuel Emergency Steps

KINGSTON

David Squires, executive director of the Ulster County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) urges Ulster County farmers who have been unable to find fuel for agricultural production through regular channels to contact his office.

ASCS and the Federal Energy Office (FEO) will operate a triple-decker backup system for farmers in fuel problems which cannot be solved through regular procedures, Squires said.

"When a farmer comes to the office and reports that his distributor cannot supply fuel, ASCS will attempt to locate a fuel source," Squires explained. "If we cannot locate the fuel locally, we will contact either the State Energy Office or the Regional FEO in New York City. In certain situations the county office will call the National FEO in Washington."

The national office will contact the Regional FEO office by the opening of business the next day. The regional office then has the responsibility of resolving the fuel problem, he said.

Artists Association Chairman Answers Senator

ALBANY — An official of the Woodstock Artists Association has taken State Senator Edwyn E. Mason (R-48th Dist.) to task for objecting to public monies being spent on the State Council on the Arts.

John Fenton, chairman of the Board of Directors of WAA, said in a letter to Mason: "It appears to me that the burden of your criticism is addressed to the fact that public monies are being expended on various art projects without a visibly concrete return."

In a previous news release, Mason objected to doubling present State Council expenditures from $15.5 million to more than $30 million, calling it "one of the numerous needless, luxury, glamor programs born of the Rockefeller administration." He said that administrators were overpaid, that much of the money goes to subsidize "junk art," and said that it finances several lavish and expensive artistic junkets to Europe.

"It is not a unique practice for government agencies or private enterprise to invest generously in the stimulation of programs which are of great benefit to the public, but which may not yield immediate financial returns," Fenton said in his letter to Mason. "I cite as examples mental health programs, subsidies to state schools, generous university grants, senior citizen programs, etc.

"How deeply necessary to the enrichment and fullness of life education and art may be cannot be assessed in captial gains but rather in the maturity, wisdom, and charity in the minds they may influence.

"Those cultures and civilizations whose healthy influence has survived are remembered for their literature, science, architecture and painting. We know little, and that inexactly, of their market places and political contests.

"We shall be a better nation, I assure you, for our wisdom and creativity than for our power to punish, or to assert our monetary dogmatisms."

In his reply, Mason said in his judgment people who enjoy the arts should pay for them "and its absoultely wrong to use public funds for this purpose."

"I have seen a great many specimens of some of the so-called 'art' produced under this program, and this is an imposition on the public to use tax money to subsidize such activities.

"As you know, extensive funds have been appropriated for the arts program, but I have strongly opposed it and will continue to do so."

Kimpel Scores Schermerhorn

MIDDLETOWN — State Senate-hopeful Helmut Kimpel continued to attack the performance of his opponent, charging that Sen. Richard E. Schermerhorn (RC-40) "has voted 'No' on every bill that could help the wage-earner, the consumer and the taxpayer."

"The incumbent claims to be the champion of the common man, yet he has cast his vote against every piece of legislation introduced this session to benefit consumers. He is robbing the voter blind, and he is demonstrating that he is solidly behind the special interest groups which would love to run the show in Albany," Kimpel said recently.

He pointed to Schermerhorn's "no" vote on bills which would license television and automobile repairmen, provide equal rights for women, and a bill to allow the practice of acupuncture in the state.

"What has he done for those who must pay up to 66 per cent more for prescription drugs in New York State than in neighboring states?" Kimpel asked.

"What has he done to bring unit pricing and price stabilization to the supermarket? What has he done to prevent the motorist from being ripped off by body shops and unscrupulous towaway operators? Nothing," said Kimpel.

"While I don't consider myself an overzealous consumer advocate, I fully support the efforts of the state legislature to protect the consumer. I would have liked to see a higher return on escrow accounts that the Legislature passed. I will fight for a repeal of the tax exemption granted telephone company equipment, which Schermerhorn voted for last year," Kimpel said.

Kimpel is a 52-year-old industrial relations specialist. He hopes to get the Republican Party endorsement for senator from the 40th District at the June 4 convention in Vails Gate.

Property Use Is Approved

CORNWALL — State Sen. Richard E. Schermerhorn (R-40th Dist.) announced today that he has been informed by Gov. Malcom Wilson that his request for the use of property at Stewart Airport for an Orange County Transfer Station has been approved.

Scheremerhorn said that "This action will eliminate the taking of additonal lands in our towns for waste transfer stations, will consolidate the operation and enable the County to move forward with their solid waste disposal operation which is scheduled to commence on August 1.

"I am deeply pleased with the response of the governor on this matter. It is of vital concern to all the residents of Orange County. This action clearly indicates the concern of the governor for the people and his realization of the necessity to take positive action in the full utilization of State owned lands," Schermerhorn said.

"It is indeed proper that we acknowledge the tremendous efforts put forth by our County Executive Louis V. Mills, in preparing studies which spelled out the need for the establishment of this transfer station at Stewart Airport."

Tiano Named to County Sports Authority

KINGSTON — Charles J. Tiano of Woodstock, sports editor of the Freeman and dean of Hudson Valley sportswriters, has been added to the list of prominent sports-minded individuals recently named to the Ulster County Sports Authority.

The announcement by Ulster County Legislature Chairman Peter J. Savago notes that the Sports Authority was established by the County Legislature late last year. Eight others were named late in April.

Tiano, long-time sports editor of the Freeman, has an extensive background in sports, both as an active participant in various sports and as a sports-writer. He organized the Kingston Bowling Association with Peter Keresman, was the organization's first secretary and eventually became president. Tiano was one of the area's leading bowlers and has been promoting bowling in the county for the past 20 years. During this time Tiano rolled in several national tournaments and was instrumental in bringing to Kingston some of the nation's leading stars and teams.

In addition, he serves as chairman of the Kingston Bowling Association Hall of Fame Selections Committee.

In baseball, he is a member of the Old Timers Baseball association of Kingston and assisted in forming the Hall of Fame. He played first base and outfield during his semi-pro years, was president of the New York-New Jersey League and assisted in organization of Little League in Kingston.

In golf he served as tournament director for Ulster County's three major tournaments, the Ulster County Amateur, Woodstock Open and Ulster County Seniors. He further organized the Cancer Crusade Golf Tournament, now an annual feature of the campaign. Tiano also assisted in the formation of the Mid-Hudson Junior Golf Classic.

Tiano, a widely-known sports function speaker and toastmaster, is a member of the Golf Writers Association of America and the American Bowling Congress of Bowling Writers.

He is married to the former Lisa Wolven of Woodstock and they have one daughter, Nina, who is attending Onteora Central High School.

Previously named were four County legislative members, Lester C. Elmendorf, Dist. 2; James F. Gilpatric, Kingston; Clifford W. Snyder, Saugerties and Thomas W. Roach Jr., Dist. 8.

Named as citizens at large were Andrew J. Murphy III of Kingston, superintendent of parks and recreation for the City of Kingston; Wilson C. Edmunds of Saugerties, prominent Saugerties Jaycee involved in sports event; Daniel Caragher of Hurley Heights, active in hockey and Little Little programming, and Arnold L. Lent of New Paltz, associate professor in Physical Education and director of Intramurals and Recreation at State University, New Paltz.

There is one more opening on the authority and this appointment will be announced at a later date.

The organizational session of the Sports Authority will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the County Legislature Chambers.

Ellenville Budget Cuts Questioned

By WADE BURKHART

ELLENVILLE — The proposed school budget in Ellenville is up about 13 per cent over 1973-74, but the main items of discussion at the informational hearing Tuesday night were not budget increases, but personnel cuts and program changes the board of education has made which will save money.

The proposed 1974-75 budget figure is $4,852,956, more than half a million dollars higher than the $4,294,351 called for by the 1973-74 budget.

In a letter which accompanied the proposed budget from Board President Sonia Olsen urging passage of the budget when it comes time for a vote, Mrs. Olsen said "mandated items" accounted for $450,000 of the increase, with the rest being "services necessary for academic development of our students."

The mandated items are chiefly raises in salary and fringe benefits.

The changes and personnel cuts in disfavor with many of the about 100 who attended the hearing were the switching of driver education to a summer program, the elimination of the dental hygienist, a cut in the industrial arts program, and the leaving vacant of the elementary guidance position for a year.

Others questioned the non-retention of two reading teachers now employed under federal funding if the federal funding is not forthcoming.

William Lenard, representing the Ellenville Teachers Association, read an association letter voicing "professional" complaints against the cuts, and urging the board to "restore a full educational program" to the district.

Several student speakers were against the change in the driver education program, and a petition with what were said to be 400 signatures was presented to the board asking that the driver education program remain in the regular curriculum.

A student spokesman said having it after school or on Saturdays would impose a "financial burden" on students, and that "98 per cent" of the students worked during the summer. "Driver ed is not a fun course," she said, "it's a necessary course for the safety of everyone in the community."

In addition to the cuts in personnel, the district will make additions under the proposed budget. Three teachers would be added to the elementary school; a learning disabilities teacher has been added through BOCES; a school social worker will be continued even if federal funds run out, as will a bi-lingual teacher; part-time positions were added in art, music, and physical education; and part-time supervisors of mathematics and reading would be added.

The budget comes up for a vote June 12, with voting in the old gymnasium of the Maple Avenue building from noon to 8 p. m.

The board has not yet adopted a budget. After the hearing, Mrs. Olsen said she thought the board would do that "within the next two weeks."

She said she did not anticipate substantial changes in the proposed budget.

Clerk Sol Sashin said there was not enough information available to estimate the tax rate under the proposed budget.

RED HOOK LIONS PLAN EXPO — Mel Jones (L) president of the Red Hook Lions Club, and Ernest Marian, chairman of the Home and Sports Show, review plans for the club's second annual exposition set to open on May 30 at the Rhinebeck Fairgrounds. A forum for both buyers and sellers, the Home and Sports Show attracted large crowds when it opened last year. The show will run through June 2. The Lions are accepting applications for booth space at present with information available from Sam Lloyd at the Fairgrounds.

Dutchess DA Heads Training Plan

POUGHKEEPSIE — Dutchess County DA Albert M. Rosenblatt has been put in charge of a program that trains potential assistant district attorneys from all over New York State.

The New York State District Attorneys Association has announced that Rosenblatt has been named chairman of the Curriculum Committee for the Public Prosecutor Training for Students program.

The program, being conducted for the third consecutive year, is designed to acquaint law students with the ethical, philosophical and technical objectives and responsibilities of public prosecution.

Graduates have gone on to positions as assistant district attorneys in various New York counties.

As chairman, Rosenblatt is responsible for developing a comprehensive program of seminars, workshops, and practical demonstrations in all aspects of the criminal law.

He also will participate as a member of the faculty, comprised of only the most highly respected prosecutors, judges and defense attorneys, according to the DA Association.

Two important lectures Rosenblatt will present are Search Warrants and Motions to Suppress Them and The New Drug and Sentencing Laws.

As author of The Complete Search Warrant, Annotated, the first manual for prosecutors published by the Association, and New York's New Drug Laws and Sentencing Statutes, judged the most comprehensive book written on this subject, Rosenblatt has been nationally acclaimed as one of the foremost authorities on these "difficult aspects of both state and federal law," said the Association.

The program is open to all students currently enrolled in law school, and is offered at no cost to the student; funds are being provided by a grant from the New York State Division of Criminal Justice Services.

Sessions will be conducted each Monday through Thursday, June 12 to July 11, with the exception of July 4.

Vassar Speaker

POUGHKEEPSIE — New York Times columnist Anthony Lewis will deliver the principal address at Vassar College's 110th commencement June 2.

Bachelor's degrees will be awarded to 509 students from 36 states and nine foreign countries. Approximately one-third of the graduating seniors are men. Seven master's degrees will also be conferred.

Lewis, whose column appears on the Times' Op-Ed Page twice a week, won his first Pulitzer Prize in 1955 for a series of articles he wrote for The Washington Post on the dismissal of a Navy employe as a security risk. The articles led to the reinstatement of the employe and later became the basis for a movie, Three Brave Men.

Lewis joined the Washington staff of The Times that year, making the Supreme Court his special assignment. He won his second Pulitzer in 1963 for his coverage of the Court.

From 1965 to 1972, he was chief of the Times' London bureau.

A 1948 graduate of Harvard, he returned to that institution in 1956-57 as a Nieman Fellow, specializing in the study of law.

He is the author of two books: Gideon's Trumpet, about a landmark case before the U.S. Supreme Court, and Portrait of a Decade, about changes in American race relations.

Other remarks at commencement exercises will be delivered by Vassar Board Chairman Elizabeth R. Purcell, Acting President and Dean of the Faculty Barbara J. Wells and by Senior Class President Jack Weiss.

The 10 a.m. exercises will be held in the Outdoor Theater or, in case of rain, in the Chapel.

Clearwater Birthday Fete

POUGHKEEPSIE — The Sloop Clearwater is five years old and you're invited to the party.

The party will be held May 19 at Frivolous Sal's Last Chance Saloon, Crannel Street, Poughkeepsie, and will feature concerts, a slide history of the Clearwarer and the refreshments available.

The year 1974 marks the fifth anniversary of the launching of this vessel that has been a standardbearer in the fight against water pollution in the Hudson Valley since 1969.

Concerts will be held at 3, 6, and 9 p.m. at Frivolous Sal's, with admission $3 per adult and $2 per student. Tickets may be secured from any member of the Mid-Hudson Sloop Club, the Hudson River Sloop Restoration, Inc., 88 Market Street, Poughkeepsie and Book and Record on Main Mall, or by contacting the Last Chance Saloon. All proceeds will go to the Sloop Restoration group.

Concerts will feature Larry Plover and the Last Chance Banjo Band, Tony Berand and John Roberts of Vermont and Pete Seeger, famed valley folksinger.

The Hudson River Sloop Restoration is a primary spokesman for environmental quality. The event is seen as helping keep the Clearwater sailing and supporting her projects.

A limited number of seats will be on sale for the party, so early reservations are urged. Further information may be gained by calling the HRSR in Poughkeepsie.

Alternatives Seminar Set

POUGHKEEPSIE — If you are a woman who is searching for alternatives in job and lifestyle, then a Dutchess Community College sponsored one-day seminar may be of some help.

Several community agencies have joined with college faculty and staff in designing the program to convene at 9:30 a.m., May 23 in Dutchess Hall.

The workshop is basically designed to address the areas of emerging opportunities for women in education, employment, and volunteer work.

"Many women are only vaguely aware of job opportunities, college programs, or volunteer situations which may be appropriate to them," says Miss Nancy J. Gingher, a counselor at the college and moderator of the "alternatives" workshop.

The program is open to all women in the Mid-Hudson area, and babysitting services will be arranged for those who wish to attend. Further information on this particular service may be obtained by contacting the college's Continuing Education Office at 471-4500, ext. 240.

Representatives from eight county volunteer agencies will be present for discussion, and they will speak of youth and social service opportunities, work in mental health clinics, and volunteer needs for health services.

Keynote speaker for the employment panel will be Mrs. Harriet Russell, director of guidance at Newburgh City School District. She will be assisted by Barbara Myers, personnel administrator at IBM, and Mrs. Doorothy Seaman, senior employment interviewer, State Department of Employment Security.

And education will be addressed by a panel moderated by Mrs. Lorraine Bagley, admissions officer, SUNY, New Paltz. Panelists will include representatives from several area colleges.

Dog Ordinance In Marlboro

MARLBORO

The Marlborough Town Board passed a dog ordinance which establishes a leash law in the town for the first time.

Meeting in regular session Monday night, the town board enacted legislation that will require an eight-foot leash (or less) on any dog in "congested" areas of the town or on any dog at public gatherings or meetings.

It was also announced that the summer recreation program will commence on May 27.

Winton Merryman was appointed to the Zoning Board of Appeals.

BOND RESOLUTION
DATED MAY 9, 1974

A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $250,000 SERIAL BONDS AND $13,000 CAPITAL NOTES OF THE COUNTY OF ULSTER, NEW YORK, TO PAY THE COST OF THE RECONSTRUCTION OF AN EXISTING COUNTY OWNED BUILDING, INCLUDING INCIDENTAL EXPENSES IN CONNECTION THEREWITH.

Section 1. For the purpose of paying the cost of the reconstruction of an existing county owned building of the County of Ulster, New York, known as the South Manor Avenue Highway Garage, for data processing and tax map departmental purposes, there are hereby authorized to be issued $250,000 serial bonds and $13,000 capital notes of said County.

Section 2. The total estimated cost of the aforesaid specific object or purpose is $263,000 and the plan of financing thereof is by the issuance of the serial bonds and capital notes authorized by this resolution. Further details concerning said bonds will be prescribed in a further resolution or resolutions of this County Legislature, and all further powers in connection with the details and sale of said capital notes are hereby delegated to the County Treasurer of said County in conformity with law.

Section 3. Subject to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, the power to authorize the issuance of and to sell bond anticipation notes in anticipation of the issuance and sale of the serial bonds herein authorized, including renewals of such notes, is hereby delegated to the County Treasurer, the chief fiscal officer. Such notes shall be of such terms, form and contents, and shall be sold in such manner, as may be prescribed by said County Treasurer, consistent with the provisions of the Local Finance Law.

Section 4. It is hereby determined that the period of probable usefulness of the aforesaid specific object or purpose is fifteen years, pursuant to subdivision 12 (a) (2) of paragraph a of Section 11.00 of the Local Finance Law.

Section 5. It is hereby further determined that the aforesaid capital notes in the amount of $13,000 will be issued and sold prior to the issuance and sale of such bonds or bond anticipation notes, and that such amount shall constitute the down payment required pursuant to Section 107.00 of the Local Finance Law.

Section 6. The faith and credit of said County of Ulster, New York, are hereby irrevocably pledged for the payment of the principal of and interest on such obligations as the same become due and payable. An annual appropriation shall be made in each year sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on such obligations as the same become due and payable. There shall annually be levied on all the taxable real property in said County, a tax sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on such obligations as the same become due and payable.

Section 7. The validity of such bonds, capital notes and bond anticipation notes may be contested only if:

1) Such obligations are authorized for an object or purpose for which said County is not authorized to expend money, or
2) The provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of publication of this resolution are not substantially complied with,

and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

3) Such obligations are authorized in violation of the provisions of the Constitution.

Section 8. This resolution, which takes effect immediately, shall be published in full in the Daily Freeman and the Hudson Valley Newspapers, the official newspapers of such County, together with a notice of the Clerk of the Ulster County Legislature substantially in the form provided in Section 81.00 of the Local Finance Law.

Miss Susan Lynn Boyer Weds Edward C. Herwig

MRS. EDWARD C. HERWIG
(Susan Lynn Boyer)
(Naccarato photo)

Mr. and Mrs. James Binney of 359 Albany Avenue, Kingston, announce the marriage of her daughter, Susan Lynn Boyer, to Edward C. Herwig, son of Mrs. Warren Herwig of 33 Manor Place, Kingston, and the late Warren Herwig. The bride is also the daughter of Robert Boyer of Cottekill.

The Rev. Marcus B. Rogers officiated at the ceremony at Christ the King Episcopal Church in Stone Ridge. Miss Cheryl Stockin, organist, provided wedding selections.

The bride selected a traditional white gown of polyester organza in the Empire styling. The bodice was accented with Venice lace interlaced with narrow pink satin ribbon. The gown featured semi-bishop sleeves and a wide flounce which was crystal pleated. Her chapel length mantilla was attached to a Juliet cap of lace trimmed with pearls and a pink bow. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis, white pompons, pink carnations, and baby's breath.

Miss Renaye Herwig of 33 Manor Place was maid of honor in a pink floral dotted swiss gown styled in the Empire line. Lace accented the V-neckline and sleeves and created an apron effect. Green satin ribbon outlined the Empire waistline. She wore a matching picture hat and carried a bouquet of pink carnations, white pompons, and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were the Misses Catherine Salvatore of Cottekill; Maria Jubie and Paula Jubie, both of Kingston. Elizabeth Herwig, of Wind Lake, Wis. served as flower girl. The bridesmaids wore matching dotted swiss gowns in blue, green and yellow. Picture hats completed the ensemble. They carried bouquets to match their gowns.

The flower girl wore a lavender gown styled similarly to those of the attendants. The gown featured a white bib and accents of white lace. She carried a small white basket of lavender flowers.

Michael Fabiano of Bloomington was best man. Ushers were Dennis Herwig, Duane Phillips, Jay Binney, all of Kingston; Robert Boyer of Cottekill was ringbearer.

The bride, a 1973 graduate of Kingston High School, is employed at Courier Citizen Company. Her husband, an alumnus of Manlius Military Academy, is employed by Van Kleeck's Tire Service.

After a wedding trip to Cape Cod, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Herwig will reside at 901 Orlando Street, Kingston.

Schovel - Endicott Nuptials

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony M. Schovel of 202 Washington Avenue, Saugerties, announce the marriage of their daughter, Madelaine of Hackensack, N.J., to Mark Edward Endicott of Maywood, N.J. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Endicott of Falmouth, Me.

The Rev. Edward I. Farrelly officiated at the ceremony at St. Mary of the Snow Church in Saugerties. Mrs. Nan Dickman, organist, provided wedding selections.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Miss Mary Joe Schovel, sister of the bride, Saugerties, was maid of honor. Attendants were Mrs. Kathleen Peele, Hackensack, N.J.; Mrs. Kathleen Flynn, Harrison; Mrs. Susan Hozella, Pennsylvania. Miss Renee Graham of Princeton, N.J. was flower girl.

Fred Endicott was best man for his son. Ushers were Michael Schovel of Alaska, Mark and Matthew Schovel, both of Saugerties.

The bride; a graduate of Saugerties High School and St. Joseph's School of Nursing in Yonkers, is employed on the Staff at Hackensack Hospital in New Jersey. Her husband, an alumnus of Falmouth High School in Maine and Luther College in Teaneck, N.J., is employed as an instructor as Passaic County Community College.

Mr. and Mrs. Endicott will reside at Maywood, N.J.

Lecture-Workshop Given Recently

Mrs. H. Henry Staley of Rhinebeck recently gave an all-day lecture-demonstration and workshop at the National Arts Club in Gramercy Park, New York, for the 28th annual Gramercy Park Flower Show, entitled "Fashions and Flowers," to be held this month at the Club Art Gallery.

Exhibiting in the artistic division of the Spring Flower Show of the New York Horticultural Society, Mrs. Staley received awards for each of her four entries: a first, second and two third places. She also exhitied an artistic design for the Third District's Judges Council to illustrate the Nature, Art and Industry Class.

The meeting took place last week at Reformed Church in New Paltz and was entitled "For More and Better Flower Shows." Mrs. Staley displayed a miniature bog garden and gave an explanatory talk on soil and site requirements for establishing a home bog garden with a comprehensive list of suitable and seasonal wild plants.

Speaker Named For Christian Women's Dinner

Kingston-Rhinebeck Christian Business and Professional Women's Council will hold its monthly dinner meeting Tuesday, May 21 at Skytop Steakhouse at 6:30 p.m. Speaker will be Mrs. Kathy O'Connor of Utica.

Mrs. O'Connor is the 1973 recipient of an Outstanding Young Woman of America Award. The award, presented annually to honor the achievements and abilities of the nation's young women, is given in recognition of civic and professional accomplishments of women between the ages of 21 and 35.

The mother of two children, she is currently serving as telephone chairman of the Mohawk Valley Christian Women's Club. She participates in home Bible studies, does weekly volunteer work at Utica State Hospital, and is active in her own church activities. Besides speaking at Christian Women's Clubs, she is often sought to present slides of her recent trip to the Holy Land.

Mrs. O'Connor attended Herkimer schools, Wagner College, and holds a BS degree in Nursing from Columbia University. She has worked in psychiatric, public health and surgical nursing fields, and has taught nursing.

Her husband Brian, a college administrator, was killed in the Marshall University plane crash in November, 1970. They had resided in New Jersey, Colorado, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia where they were both active in college, church and community events. While in West Virginia, she worked as a trained volunteer for CONTACT, a 24-hour counseling service.

A special feature at the dinner meeting will be presented by "Wood, Weave and Wax," a new handicraft shop located on Route 28 in Shokan. Music will be presented by Carol King, soprano.

Reservations must be made by Monday, May 20 with Mrs. Linda Duspivia of Kingston or Mrs. Helen Christensen of Tillson.

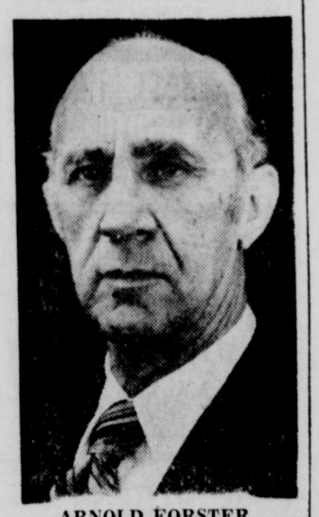

Special B'nai B'rith Program Planned

Arnold Forster, Associate Director and General Counsel of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, will discuss "Sixth-Sense Anti-Semitism: Its Prevalence, Recognition and Counteraction" before a Hudson Valley area-wide audience at 8 p.m. Sunday, May 19, at the Tamarack Lodge, Ellenville, it was announced to-day by Jack Leshner, president of the Sidney Goldstein-Fallsburg B'nai B'rith Lodge and Mrs. Dorothy Schlussel of Ellenville Women's B'nai B'rith Chapter, co-chairmen of the sponsoring committee.

Mr. Forster, a constitutional lawyer, writer and creator of radio and television programs on the Arab-Israel conflict, was awarded the 1972 Citation for Excellence by the Overseas Press Club of America for his "Dateline Israel" documentary series. A leading authority on prejudice as it affects all groups in American life, he is co-author of "The New Anti-Semitism" based on Anti-Defamation League research, which exposes a new subtle anti-Semitism within the "respectable" elements of world-wide society, as well as the continuation and ehancement of the anti-racial sentiment which has plagued the United States since the 1920's. Also among Mr. Forster's writings are "Cross-Current," "Danger On The Right," and "Some Of My Best Friends . . ."

Participating B'nai B'rith sponsor units include Ellenville Lodge and Women's Chapter; Maimonides-Liberty Lodge; Middletown Lodge; Monticello Lodge and Women's Chapter; Newburgh Lodge and Women's Chapter; Poughkeepsie Lodge and Women's Chapter; Sidney Goldstein-Fallsburgh Lodge and Women's Chapter; Wallkill-Walden Lodge; and Zephaniah-Kingston Lodge and Women's Chapter. No admission will be charged and there will be no fund solicitation.

A number of copies of "The New Anti-Semitism" will be available to the audience for purchase and autograph by the author. Refreshments will be served after a question-answer period. Jewish organizations in the area and their membership are invited to attend this informative program.

Rebekahs to Observe 68th Anniversary

Queen Ulster Rebekah Lodge No. 34 will observe its 68th anniversary Tuesday, June 4, at which time the retiring District Deputy President Mildred McGloughlin and her staff will exchange regalia with the new deputy and her staff. All officers are requested to wear white for the anniversary.

A bus trip is being planned to the Grand Lodge Home at Ithaca on June 8. The home is located on a hill overlooking Lake Cayuga, an area known for its beautiful scenery. Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and interested parties are invited. Reservations must be made with Anna Minkler by May 25. The bus will leave the Saugerties Bus Terminal at 7 a.m.

The secretary reported on the Grand Lodge Home Annual Yearbook. A letter was read from International Association of Rebekah Assemblies President Jennie Sue Pearson, stressing the need for active participation by Lodge members. Committees appointed by Noble Grand Hilda Van Etten included Alice DuBois, Theresa Taylor, vice grand and noble grand, visiting; Anna Minkler and Alice DuBois, refreshments.

The social committee for the May meeting was Hannah Lewis and Marie Gundersen.

She Asks: Be Kind Now, Not When He's Dead

by ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Someone I love has had a terminal illness for the last 15 months. His physical appearance is heartbreaking. He is skin and bones, totally helpless, and can't even scratch his own nose. He can't speak, but his mentality is not affected. He still recognizes everyone and understands what he sees on TV.

His friends, understandably, cannot bear to see this once handsome, 200-pound man in this condition, so they just stay away. The few who continue to come are warmly received. He lets them know with his eyes how much he appreciates their visit even though he can't speak.

When he dies, everyone will rush over with food, flowers, and offers to "do" whatever they can. Please tell them, Abby, he needs them now — not later. People stay away because it's easier. They justify their staying away with the thinnest of excuses. Tell them, Abby, they are making a terrible mistake. I know because that's the way I reacted to anyone who was terminally ill. It's all coming home to me now.

SADDER BUT WISER IN KANSAS

DEAR SADDER: Not everyone in this tragic position wants visitors. (Some emphatically do not.) Friends should try to find out what the situation is in each case, and act accordingly — if indeed they are able to.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Whenever I call my husband at work his boss answers the phone and says: "He went across the street to the bar for a little while."

Abby, I know my husband would never go to a bar at 10 o'clock in the morning, but that's the answer I always get.

I found out that the boss tells this to all the wives who call and ask to talk to their husbands. Worse yet, if a husband calls and asks for his wife, he gets the same smart alecky answer. Can you imagine how many fights are started between married couples over this?

Do you think the boss takes pleasure in stirring up trouble between husbands and wives? Or is he trying to be funny? Print this — he might see it and cut it out.

NOT LAUGHING

DEAR NOT: I suspect that what the boss would like to "cut out" is a lot of unnecessary telephone calls to his employes. (There ought to be a better way to do it, however.)

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Permit me to add a note to that of "Loaded," who thinks it is wasteful that we are buried or cremated with the gold in our mouths.

Several years ago my dentist, who is also a personal friend, after installing several gold bridges, a couple of gold crowns, plus gold inlays and fillings, turned to my wife and said: "When he dies, call me before you call the undertaker. I'll come over and knock the gold out of his teeth — that will help pay for part of the funeral." Thoughtful? at today's gold prices it would probably pay for the entire funeral.

I am sure "Loaded" can make this arrangement with a dentist if desired.

ALSO LOADED IN COALINGA

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My sister-in-law has a job as good as the one I have, but she doesn't budget her money, so consequently she is always in debt and she never has anything to show for her money.

I am just the opposite. I shop around and spend my money wisely, and I have a very nice wardrobe. My sister-in-law is my size, so every time she sees me wearing something new she says: "When you're through with that, throw it my way."

It makes me feel like I should give it to her after I've worn it a season, but I like to keep my clothes from one season to the next, and I really don't want to "throw" anything her way or anybody else's way.

How should I handle it? If I say: "I'll keep you in mind," then I'm committed to give it to her. If I don't say anything, she can assume she'll get it eventually.

I have given her a few things in the past, but I don't like to be rushed. Any suggestions?

LIKES TO DRESS

DEAR LIKES: I disagree. Silence doesn't necessarily imply agreement. But to avoid a misunderstanding, say: "I'm glad you like it, but I'm not making any promises."

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Cal. 90212.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ERNIE IN LEXINGTON: Don't get excited. A "SEXAGENARIAN" means she's from 60 to 69 years old.

• • •

Kingston Hospital Auxiliary Announces Upcoming Events

At a recent meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Auxiliary of the Kingston Hospital, plans were formulated for several upcoming events. A luncheon for the Board will be given by Mrs. Norman Schwakopf, Auxiliary president, at her home on Thursday. The annual general membership luncheon will be held Tuesday, June 4 at the Governor Clinton Hotel. According to Mrs. Louis Salzmann, chairman of the event, the buffet meal will be followed by a presentation by the Kingston High School Chorus.

Mrs. George Rifenbary, chairman of the nominating committee, announced the proposed slate of officers for the coming year: Mrs. John McCullough, president; Mrs. Louis Salzmann, first vice-president; Mrs. LeRoy Stoothoff, second vice president; Mrs. Seymour Semilof, recording secretary; Mrs. George Washbourne, corresponsing secretary; Mrs. William Darling, treasurer; and Mrs. Christus Larios, financial secretary. The slate will be presented to the general membership at the June 4 luncheon.

YWCA Programs

The YWCA of Dutchess County has scheduled two special programs for next week. "Foster Children," an informational meeting on foster care will be held Monday, May 20, 9:30-11:30, at YWCA, 18 Bancroft Road, Poughkeepsie. The speaker will be Margaret Polanski, Chairman of the National Association of Social Workers Foster Care Committee.

Mrs. Polanski will give an overall picture of foster care and what is entailed in becoming a foster parent. She will indicate what makes a good foster parent, agency requirements for applying families, where people can apply for foster children and financial aspects of foster care. There will be an opportunity for questions and answers. Families considering becoming foster parents are particularly welcome. The program is free.

"You Have Come A Long Way, Baby, or Have You?" is the title of a talk focusing on women and the law to be given Tuesday, May 21, 12:30-2:30. Susanna E. Bedell, an attorney with the firm of VandeWater and Vande Water, is the speaker. She will offer a point of view on women's current role in society along with its past and future directions. How laws effect this role will be shown in various aspects such as wages, discrimination and equal employment. There will be a nominal registration fee.

These programs are open to the public. Pre-register by mail or at the YWCA.

THAT MAN SCHULTZ — Philadelphia Flyers' Dave Schultz is kept away from Boston's Andra Savard by the referee as they came to blows in the first period for second time in fourth game of Stanley Cup playoffs. Flyers won to take cammanding 3-1 lead. (UPI)

Flyers' Shero a Bit Wary

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Experience has taught Philadelphia Flyers' Coach Fred Shero not to count on anything.

Shero's team has a 3-1 lead today over the Boston Bruins in the National Hockey League Stanley Cup final playoff. He has the home ice edge. He should be dusting off a spot for the storied Cup.

But he isn't.

After the Flyers beat the Bruins Tuesday night 4-2, with Bill Barber slapping in a 40-foot goal at 14:25 of the final period for the winning score, Shero commented: "I've been there before. Don't count on it (the Cup) yet."

Shero explained that in the 1950 Stanley Cup final he was a member of the New York Rangers' team that had a 3-1 lead on Detroit, and twice had two-goal leads in the last two games, but lost.

Shero's history is a little hazy. The Stanley Cup record book shows that New York led 3-2, not 3-1, but the analogy is close. As a matter of fact, only one team in NHL history has ever come from a 3-1 (or 3-0) deficit to win the Cup—the Toronto Maple Leafs in 1942 over the Detroit Red Wings.

The Flyers left nothing to chance as they battled to gain a stranglehold on the mighty Bruins. Before the game, instead of the national anthem, they played the team's good luck song—Kate Smith's record of "God Bless America." With Kate warbling her classic Irving Berlin tune, the Flyers now have won 36 of 40.

The series now goes back to Boston for the fifth game Thursday night. A sixth, if necessary, is scheduled for the Flyers' Spectrum ice Sunday afternoon, where Philadelphia has won nine out of nine playoff games this spring.

The goal by the 21-year-old Barber sent a sellout crowd of 17,007 into a frenzy. It was the second-year player's first score in 10 games.

The game started out like a team wrestling match. There were 21 penalties in the first period, six for fighting. In between the Flyers scrapped to a 2-0 lead, only to see the determined Bruins battle back to tie it before intermission.

Boston Coach Bep Guidolin, who had ripped his team after game three for lack of second and third effort, had nothing but praise for the beaten Bruins.

"I think we outmuscled them, outplayed them," Guidolin said. When they wanted to play rough, we played rough. When they wanted to play hockey, we played hockey. But we didn't outscore them. We missed a lot of open nets. I still takes four games to win the Cup."

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cougars, faced with a "must" game against the Houston Aeros tonight in their World Hockey Association championship playoff, will have to depend on finesse rather than muscle.

"They carry their sticks high," said Cougar player-coach Pat Stapleton, "but we can't outmuscle them. That's what Minnesota tried to do in their series and it didn't work. The only way we can beat this club is to outskate them."

The Cougars tried muscle Sunday night in the first period of the opener of the best-of-seven series. But they fell behind 2-0. The Cougars went back to skating, and tied the game at 2-2 before Frank Hughes scored with 4:12 left to give the Aeros a 3-2 victory.

What makes tonight's game a "must" so early in the series is that play switches to Houston for the next three games and the Cougars haven't won there in two years.

The series should have opened in Houston since the Teros finished first in the Western Division while the Cougars were fourth in the East.

But the same Peter Pan production that forced the Cougars to leave the International Amphitheatre for the suburban Randhurst Twin Ice Arena knocekd the Aeros from their home ice this week.

Houk Liked Only the Game

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Ralph Houk came back to New York and found everything missing—the ballpark, the beer and the spittoon.

The new manager of the Detroit Tigers found nothing to his liking, in fact, but the baseball game with the Yankees. The Tigers won that 5-2 Tuesday night.

Making his first appearance as a visiting manager in the city that made him famous, Houk admitted that he felt uncomfortable.

In the other American League games, the Milwaukee Brewers beat the Baltimore Orioles 8-3; the Cleveland Indians trimmed the Boston Red Sox 6-2 and the Kansas City Royals beat the Oakland A's 4-2 in the first game of a doubleheader before dropping the second game 2-1 in 10 innings. Rain washed out two games—Minnesota at Chicago and California at Texas.

Lolich, Detroit's longtime ace, entered the game with a 1-5 record and 4.85 earned run average. The 33-year-old lefthander held the Yankees hitless for 92 2/3 innings but fell behind 1-0 when Lou Piniella singled, Jim Ray Hart walked and Graig Nettles singled.

Brewers 8, Orioles 3

Pedro Garcia, Johnny Briggs, Bobby Mitchell and George Scott each drove in two runs to lead Milwaukee over Baltimore.

Billy Champion, 1-0, who had worked only eight innings previously this year, outdueled Cy Young Award winner Jim Palmer, 2-4, who was raked for seven runs in 4 1-3 innings.

Indians 6, Red Sox 2

George Hendrick hit a two-run homer and scored two runs to back the five-hit pitching of Gaylord Perry that carried Cleveland past Boston.

Royals 4-1, A's 2-2

Cookie Rojas slammed a tie-breaking two-run homer in the sixth inning to power Kansas City over Oakland in the first game of their doubleheader.

Gaylen Pitts led Oakland's victory in the second game, doubling home the winning run in the 10th inning.

National League scores: San Francisco 4, Cincinnati 0; Pittsburgh 7, Chicago 1; Montreal 9, Philadelphia 2; Atlanta 3, San Diego 2 and Los Angeles 1, Houston 0. Rain postponed the game between New York and St. Louis.

Expos' Steve Rogers No Cheap Imitation

It was a great compliment when they made it late last year, but now, with Seaver, two-time Cy Young Award winner, playing the Hamlet of Flushing Meadow Park with a 1-4 mark, the Expos are more inclined to think of Rogers as a "First Steve Rogers." You can't blame them, either, because Rogers has a 6-1 record and his 9-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Tuesday night moved them into first place in the National League's Eastern Division.

"He's a pitcher who understands himself, knows what he can do and goes out and does it," said Montreal Manager Gene Mauch.

Chicago defeated Pittsburgh, 7-1, San Francisco blanked Cincinnati, 4-0, Altanta downed San Diego, 3-2, and Los Angeles shaded Houston, 1-0, in other National League games. New York at St. Louis was rained out.

Ron Fairly drove in two runs with a homer and single to lead the Expos' 15-hit attack which dealt the Phils' Jim Lonborg his third loss against three wins. Willie Davis contributed three hits to the Expos' attack while Larry Bowa had two for the Phillies.

Cubs 7 Pirates 1:

Rick Reuschel pitched a four-hitter and Jose Cardenal had three hits to lead the Cubs to their victory, which handed the Pirates their fourth straight loss. Jerry Reuss was tagged for eight hits and three runs in six innings and suffered his third loss for the Pirates.

Giants 4 Reds 0:

Gary Thomasson had three hits —a triple and two singles —and Garry Maddox a double and a homer to lead the Giants to their victory behind the five-hit pitching of Mike Caldwell. Caldwell struck out only two and walked only one and had little trouble in gaining his sixth win as Jack Billingham suffered his second defeat in seven decisions for the Reds.

Braves 3 Padres 2:

Frank Tepedino's two run bases-filled single wa sthe big blow for the Braves in their victory over the Padres. Phil Niekro went six innings to raise his record to 4-3 while Bill Greif, tagged for three runs and eight hits in five innings, saw his record drop to 2-6. Dave Winfield homered for the Padres.

You think bowling didn't slip in the Kingston area during the 1973-74 season that is grinding to a halt? Well, the best men's average we've seen to date is the 192.11 posted by Big Bob Shelightner in the crack International League.

Jack Ferraro, who would rather be a harness driver than a bowler these days, was runnerup to Shelightner with 192.15. And that's it for 190 averages. A 14-team major league producing only two 190 averages, no 1100 games or 3100 triples? Times have changed, haven't they?

Niagara University, embarking on a blockbusting 1974-75 basketball schedule, has lured three outstanding high school stars to the upstate campus. The top catch is Vern Allen, the 6-8 center on the nationally famous DeMatha High School championship basketball team in Washington, D. C. area.

Coach Frank Layden, who tore the disappointing Purple Eagles apart in mid-season last year, is high on Allen, whose Hyattsville, Md. team won 26 of 31 games this past season. "He's extremely quick for a big man and he's got great range up to 18 or 20 feet and very tough inside," says Layden.

Joining Allen will be teammate William "Billy" Mecca, a 5-8 guard described as a "super leader" by the DeMatha High coach, Morgan Wootten, who has guided DeMatha to 492 victories against just 69 losses in the last 18 years. "He's a super leader, a super kid and just a coach's delight," says Wooten.

The third outstanding player recruited by Niagara is Ollie Harper, Niagara Frontier League scoring champion with Niagara Falls High. The 6-5 Harper averaged 27 points a game during the 1973-74 season, as the Power Cats won both the Niagara Frontier League title and the Class AA Sectional championships with a perfect 21-0 record. Harper totalled 1,309 points in three years of varsity play.

The popular mile-long Hunter Mountain skyride is scheduled to open for another Spring-Summer-Fall season on Saturday, May 25. The facility will be open on weekends again through the fall foilage season.

The mile-long ride to the summit of the Colonel's Chair, a 3260-feet-above sea level mountain, has been a popular tourist attraction for the past 11 seasons. The Catskills' longest and highest chairlift, it offers a panoramic view of the Great Northeast.

At the summit, the "Castle in the Clouds" summit lodge will be open with its cafeteria, lounge areas and restrooms. The operating hours are 10:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

John Cabell of Bloomington, who was Kingston High's all-time mile cross country ace, is currently performing with the 1974 Princeton University track team.

Cabell, a letter man for the cross country team, has been a standout in the three-mile run so far this season with two seconds and one third in three starts. The Tigers are preparing for their annual meets with Harvard, Yale and Army, before competing in the Heptagonal Championships.

A freshman, Cabell is the son of Mrs. Anne Cabell of Bloomington. At Kingston High Cabell performed under coaches Dean Short and Ron Gabriele.

The A Division of the Saugerties Softball League will be displaying a faster brand of pitching than has been the case in area leagues in recent years. The SSL was one of the last leagues to abandon the fast-pitch, windmill variety of the game, having preserved it in its premier division through the 1971 season.

The league has resisted changing over to the sissified arcball and lob game, operating the past two seasons with a restricted pitching requirement. This permits pitching as fast as possible with a straight backward and forward motion.

* * *

The restricted format will again be the basic format in the B, C and D divisions for the '74 season, but the A Division has moved up to a less restrained delivery. The new season starting Friday will see the "A" pitchers hampered by only a single restriction: no windmill pitching.

This means the pitchers will be abe to achieve considerable velocity (that's the new word for speed) via slingshot and other-style hurling and tight, low scoring contests are expected.

* * *

Believe it or not, there are some slo-pitch, lob-ball addicts, who insist that type pitching is harder to hit than any except the windmill speed delivery.

The straight backward and forward motion pitching gives you uniform velocity to hit at, while waiting for those high lobs and arcs can be frustrating. It's a theory, but we don't happen to buy it.

Barnaby's Loaf and Tankard in New Paltz has announced plans for its second annual canoe races (2-man kayak) Saturday, May 25. The eight-mile run between Midway Park and the New Paltz bridge starts at 11 a.m.

Race has been moved up from August to provide better water conditions and fewer portages. Last year's entry list of 23 is expected to go much higher. The man at Barnaby's said there is some "white water" on the course.

No "big names" are expected, just a lot of enthusiastic amateurs. The defending champions are Lee Cabe and Tom Haggeman and they will be back.

WFL Scores Legal Win on Fourth Down

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer

If you're still trying to keep score in pro football's court game, add an important touchdown for the World Football League as the unusual preseason contest nears its "fourth quarter."

But they play overtime.

The established National Football League and the upstart World Football League wore their shoulder pads and helmets to court Tuesday, preferring to finish their legal battles before worrying about things like the rapidly-approaching training season.

The WFL completed its touchdown drive when a Cincinnati judge refused to stop the rookie league from contacting and signing NFL players. The NFL Cincinnati Bengals had sought a preliminary injunction against linebacker Bill Bergey and the WFL, but U. S. District Judge David Porter ruled that granting the legislation would "harm the public interest in fostering free competition in the marketplace for the sports dollar."

Porter added in his 4-page judgement that Bergey "is a fine young man, an emotional person with a great competitive spirit. Bergey has no intention of breaching his contract by letting down in the slightest."

But NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle said, the NFL is concerned that the public might think NFL players who have signed WFL contracts for future years might not be doing their best.

"That aura of suspicion concerns me."

It still concerns the Dallas Cowboys, who also went to court to enjoin against further player raids and achieved a restraining order. But that didn't bother quarterback Craig Morton, who has signed for 1975 with the WFL Houston Texans. Morton was listed as a "no-show" at Tuesday's opening of a voluntary two-week quarterback school the club is running.

Veteran quarterback Jack Concannon also was missing from the school, but he was excused due to an illness in his family.

Miami Dolphins' owner Joe Robbie says the federal judge's decision won't change the plans of his NFL champion team's suing the WFL over the signings of Paul Warfield, Jim Kiick and Larry Csonka by the Toronto Northmen, who since have moved to Memphis.

Bergey's Ambassadors — already moved twice in their few months of life—have moved again, the St. Petersburg Times reported in its Wednesday editions.

They will become the Orlando, Fla., Ambassadors Thursday, the paper said, giving Florida four professional football teams. The others are the Dolphins and NFL expansion franchise Tampa, and the WFL Jacksonville Sharks.

In other action Tuesday, the Washington Redskins acquired running back Larry Smith from the Los Angeles Rams even though the five-year veteran already has signed a future contract with the WFL Jacksonville club. "He can help us win now," Redskins Coach George Allen emphasized. "The future is this year."

The Chicago Bears announced they would pay middle linebacker Dick Butkus full salary for the remaining four years of his five-year contract whether he can play football or not. Bad knees forced Butkus out of the last half of last season, and doctors have not yet determined his future.

Admirals Top Kingston Nine

FREEDOM PLAINS — Kingston High School's baseball team is suffering from a horrible close game jinx these days. Tuesday, the Maroons fell to Arlington, 5-4 in an eight inning DCSL contest. It was the fifth one-run game KHS has lost this season.

The Admirals, meanwhile, displayed the magic touch. Brian Leonelli, the leadoff man for the winners in the bottom of the eighth, tagged a Joe Primo pitch for a home run that decided the contest. The handwriting had been put on the wall in the top of the frame.

That's when Kingston, which outhit Arlington all day long, managed to put two men on with nobody out. Scott Gleckel then became the third Arlington pitcher of the game, and he proceeded to work some magic. He picked off both runners and struck out the only man he faced to kill the inning.

Arlington took advantage of Kingston errors and scored twice in each of the first two innings to grab the lead. Only one of the runs off Primo was earned.

The Maroons battled back on Walt Debrosky's triple and Lou Eccleston's homer in the third, on Rich Bell's double and Debrosky's RBI single in the fourth, and on Primo's run-scoring hit in the seventh which finally tied the game.

The 14-hit Maroon barrage eventually chased starter Jerry Seager and reliever Bill Southworth. The acutal damage, however, was negligible since the Maroons somehow stranded 15 men on base.

Kingston fell to 4-6 in the DCSL race while the Admirals improved to 7-3.

Fight Scheduled

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — Boone Kirkman will take on Ken Norton in a 10-round heavyweight fight here June 25, Kirkman's promoters announced Tuesday.

Norton, 28, San Diego, is ranked No. 5 among the heavyweight challengers. Kirkman is No. 10 in both the Ring Magazine and World Boxing Association listings.

SPEAKING AGAIN — With Archbishop Coleman F. Carroll of Miami acting as mediator, Miami Dolphins Coach Don Shula (L) and his boss, Joe Robbie, have declared truce in their feud since they exchanged heated words at banquet 18 days ago. (UPI)

Rentzel Will Return

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lance Rentzel, sidelined by a suspension during the 1973 season, will be back in a pro football uniform this fall.

Rentzel, suspended indefinitely by National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle a year ago for "conduct detrimental to pro football," has applied for reinstatement and hopes to set the date for a face-to-face meeting with Rozelle in a few days.

The commissioner is expected to give Rentzel the green light to return to the Los Angeles Rams for the 1974 season.

But even if Rozelle doesn't lift the suspension, Rentzel is free to accept an offer from the World Football League. Three different teams have contacted him in that league and a WFL spokesman said Tuesday that Rentzel is eligible to play in their league regardless of his status in the NFL.

"I feel confident I'll be playing somewhere this fall," Rentzel said Tuesday in Los Angeles, "that's the way I see it."

Rozelle was out of town Tuesday but a NFL spokesman said he would have no comment on the Rentzel case until a decision is announced.

"I'm hoping that within a week, I can set the date with the commissioner for a meeting," Rentzel said.

Maroon Girls Win at Tennis

KINGSTON

Kingston High's girls tennis team edged Arlington Tuesday, 3-2 to remain unbeaten after five matches.

Cindy Lowe dropped the opening set to Sue Tiffany, 8-3, but KHS rebounded with Ann Markes' 8-0 triumph over Melissa Spielberger and Melanie Rau's 8-5 win over Carol Tjon.

The first doubles locked up the decision as Shari Ellis and Paula Woinoski combined to defeat Arlington's Jane Aldrich and Judy Clark, 9-7. The losers make it closer with a win in second doubles, Mary Ann Kovar and Sue Logan over Jana Torrissi and Joanne Winslow, 8-4.

Saugerties in Split In Track Triangular

FREEDOM PLAINS — While Arlington High's powerful track team crushed all opposition, Tom Abate of Saugerties and Tom Moore of Beacon staged a personal duel in the high jump here Tuesday. Moore finally cleared 6-2 to outlast Abate's 6-1 effort, but that didn't stop the Sawyers from gaining a split in the triangular by walloping the Bulldogs, 84-57.

Arlington won both its legs of the DCSL party, clipping Saugerties, 111½-29½ and Beacon, 117-24.

Saugerties finished the year at 5-3 in dual competition by topping Beacon in 11 of the 17 events. Abate also found time to tie teammate Steve Wehr for first in the 330 intermediate hurdles. Wehr completed a double win by running 16.7 in the 120 lows.

The Sawyers swept all three relays from Beacon to add to the margin. Rick Kulikowski, who led the winning 880 quartet, also won the 100 yard dash with a wind-aided time of 10.4.

New Paltz and Coleman Win in UCAL

KINGSTON — Rich Snyder and Joe Owens homered in consecutive innings Tuesday to lift new Paltz High to a 5-3 victory over Fallsburgh in a day of UCAL makeup games.

In other contests, Coleman again went extra innings but this time managed to pull out a 7-6 victory over Pine Bush, and Wallkill pounded Ellenville, 14-9.

Owens' seventh inning blast was just icing on the Hugies' cake as Snyder's circuit in the sixth turned out to be the winning run. Both came with no one on and were hit off losing pitcher Duane Hannold.

Pete Ferrante, who was in control of everything but the Comets' Terry Patton, was given a one run lead in the first and never fell behind. Patton, who slammed four of Fallsburgh's six hits, drove in two runs and created a 2-2 tie after four frames before New Paltz pulled away.

Ferrante, who finished with nine strikeouts and one base on balls, struggled in the seventh before getting himself out of a jam the hard way. With two on, two out and one Fallsburgh run already in, Ferrante faced strong-hitting Norris Gilmore who drilled a line drive back at the box. The ball caromed off Ferrante's leg and rolled toward first base where Walt Smith picked it up for the game-ending out.

Coleman, which lost in eight innings Monday, won this time as Greg Moon's clutch single chased home Chris Bentley with the winning run. The hit with two outs after Bentley had stroked his fourth hit of the game and Adam Stauble had worked loser Dave Hillriegal for a walk.

Bentley was the Coleman starter, and he quickly yielded three runs to the Bushmen in the first. His two-run double in the third and Phil Timbrouck's RBI triple in the fourth highlighted a Statesmen comeback that enabled reliever John Stote to take ove a 6-6 game at the start of the seventh.

Walkill wasted little time with Ellenville's Ricky Wright. In the first inning winning pitcher Mark Walther powered a three run homer which was immediately followed by a solo shot by catcher Brian Wickes. Wright got out of the inning trailing 6-0 and finally left the mound with shell shock midway in the fifth.

Walther mowed down the Blue Devils with little trouble after that. He ended with 14 strikeouts, and while Ellenville's Ron Storms stung him with a bases-loaded double in the fifth, Panther John Horn slugged a bases-loaded triple in the sixth to nullify the damage.

OCS Golfers Check Ellenville Streak

WOODSTOCK — The string ran out on Ellenville High here Tuesday at the Woodstock Country Club as host Onteora pinned the Ellie golfers with their first defeat of the year, 165-170.

The win left OCS still unbeaten and with a 4-0 record in UCAL play. Monday Onteora tied Liberty at 163, also at Woodstock, but that was a non-designated match.

In a non-league match Tuesday, Coleman posted a 178-193 victory over Saugerties at Twaalfskil. It was the second win in as many days for the Statesmen who came fresh off a 171-183 triumph over New Paltz.

Ellenville got a 37 from Matt Friedman which was good enough for medalist honors, but it wasn't good enough to hold back OCS. John Carlson fired 39, Jeff Buton shot 41, Steve Scherbarth recorded 42 and Mike Powers had 43 to produce the winning total.

The rest of the Ellies had a little more trouble. John Gilette managed a 43, then Mike Hayden and Bruce Tennenbaum struggled home in 45.

Against tough Liberty, Carlson fired 37, Scherbarth had 39, Buton had 42 and Bill Kennedy had 45. It equled Rad Yaun's 37, Mitch Estes' 39, John Beck's 40, and Karl Nitsche's 47.

Coleman had little trouble disposing of the Sawyers as A. J. Maneen continued his rally back to form. Maneen fired 37 to head the win, and he was backed by Fran O'Donnell's 40, Jeff Kelly's 47 and Steve Dulin's 48.

Chris Luley had 46 to pace Saugerties. Brian Holly at 48, Warren Yetter at 49 and Tom Brady at 50 rounded out the total. For Coleman, which is 3-0 in the UCAL, it was the fifth win in eight outings.

Maneen had 39, Kelly had 40, Dulin shot 43 and Dick Martin carded 49 in the Monday victory. New Paltz received a 43 from Gary Siegel, a 45 from Earl Harp, a 47 from Mark Robertson and a 48 from Kurt Grosshans.

Raiders Crush Highland High In Track, 99-40

NEW PALTZ — Red Hook High's track team, showing big improvements in the field events, blitzed Highland here Tuesday, 99-40. The win enables the Raiders to enter this Satuday's UCAL meet with a 4-3 dual meet record.

Rich Fritz was the star of the day as his winning 6 feet, one-half inch high jump set a new Red Hook school record and represents the best leap in the league this season. He backed that with a long jump of 19-4 to earn the winners' only double of the day.

Bob Ross threw the shot 43-11. Bill Hladik posted a triple jump of 36-10, and Scott Burud easily won the pole vault at 11 feet in other Red Hook firsts. Keith Giamportone paced Highland with victories in the 120 highs and 330 intermediate hurdles.

KHS Jayvees Top Admirals

KINGSTON — Cliff Lyons took command for the Kingston High School junior varsity baseball team Tuesday, pitching a four-hitter with ten strikeouts to lead a 4-1 victory over Arlington.

The little Maroons only managed four hits themselves but managed to raise their record to 9-3 on the year. Mike Costello slammed the big hit, a double that drive in a run.

Smith Traded

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Running back Larry Smith, who recently signed a contract with the World Football League's Florida team, was traded by the Los Angeles Rams Tuesday to the Washington Redskins.

The Rams said they will receive future undisclosed draft choice considerations from the Redskins for Smith.

The 27-year-old Smith recently announced he would play out his option this year and had signed a multiyear contract with the Florida team.

Shrader, Wilken, Sue Scott Cross Country Winners

OLIVEBRIDGE — Bill Shrader, Don Wilken, and Sue Scott were the winners in the most recent cross country runs sponsored by the Onteora Runners Club.

Shrader captured the 6.2 mile open race in a time of 34 minutes, 35 seconds, better than two minutes faster than second place Barry Hopkins.

Wilkin was first in the 3.1 mile "estimation" race, in which a runner predicts his time and tries to come close to it. Wilkin's 17:15 was five seconds faster than his estimation while second place Jon Powell was 49 seconds slower than his.

Scott was victorious in the three-quarter mile women's race, crossing the finish line in 6:19, 24 seconds ahead of Sarah Wagner.

The Onteora Club will sponsor a meet against the Capital Track Club next month. Further information will be forthcoming.

Pioneers Upset KHS, 4-1

Sawyers Topple Roosevelt

KINGSTON — Saugerties High struggled for a tennis victory Tuesday, and that 3-2 win by the Sawyers over Roosevelt made Poughkeepsie's 4-1 upset of Kingston all the more resounding in the DCSL.

Saugerties, now with a 5-1 record, has four more opponents to face before the season runs out, but only one, Lourdes, which now leads the league with an 8-1 record, poses a threat to the Sawyers.

Kingston, which fell apart in Tuesday's singles, suffered its second loss in seven matches and all but eliminated itself from the title picture.

The Sawyers had to make a comeback to pull out their match. First Rich Rumble then Duane Jones dropped singles matches. The winners were Fred and Russ Williams who posted identical 8-6 scores to provide the Presidents with a 2-0 lead.

Darryl Jones stemmed the tide by turning back Keith Blodget, 8-4 in thrid singles. He and Fred Stoll then won the second doubles battle, 8-0 over Blodget and Jamie Kurten to even up the team points as the first doubles match still raged.

Rumble and Duane Jones finally triumphed, downing the Williams boys 10-8. It meant the match and could mean the championship. A calm SHS coach Jack Welton only said, "We were fortunte."

Kingston was not. Coach John Hunter called it the "biggest upset of the year."

"Watsky was greatly improved," Hunter said, "and Ingalsbe usually handles this Craig Effron."

Mark Watsky was improved enough to knock off Kingston's Dan Galyon, 8-6 in first singles, and Effron, in second singles, beat Dan Ingalsbe, 8-3. After Poughkeepsie's Andy Niessen whipped John Ivankovic in the third singles 8-0. Kingston was finished instead of taking a one-point advantage into the doubles as anticipated.

The Pioneers rubbed it in as Joe Raleigh and Keith Cross added a 9-7 victory over Ron Cicio and Kevin Boyd. Bob McCabe and Jim Contino finally averted the shutout by winning second doubles, 8-4 from Ben Jacobs and Hadley Breffman.

Freshman Paces Red Hook Tennis Win Over Comets

RED HOOK — Red Hook High's tennis team got a lift from freshman Nick Hamersley and went on to defeat visiting Fals'burgh, 4-1 in UCAL action Tuesday.

Hamersley made his debut in singles a successful one by downing the Comets' Chris Dill, 8-6 in third singles. It gave the Raiders a one point lead, and they closed out the match by sweeping the doubles to run their league record to 6-1.

John Sypek stopped Andy Oretsky, 8-1 to give Red Hook the lead. A win by Mark Mednick of Fallsburgh, an 8-6 decision over Dick Totman, evened the match before Hamersley put the Raiders in front for good.

In doubles results, Holley Patrick and Tom Griffin ran up an 8-3 victory over Arthur Schwartz and Randy Dill, John Graham and Greg Martin ended the day by beating Mike Quiat and Jerry Marcus, 8-3.

Garske Signs

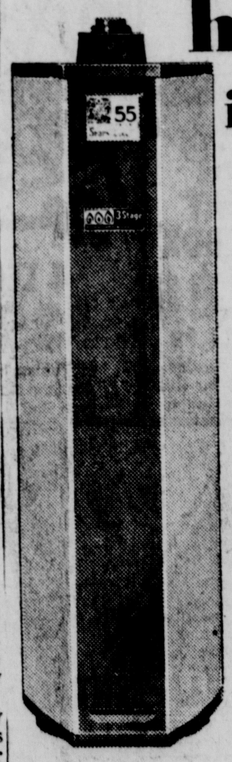

CHENEY, Wash. (UPI) — Scott Garske, a tight end from Eastern Washington State, announced Tuesday he has signed a contract with the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League.

Ortleib: 0-Hitter

HURLEY — D. Ortleib, whose first name was not listed in the boxscore, pitched a no-hit, no-run game in the Hurley Little League, as Red Sox blanked the Mets 8-0.

In another well-pitched Hurley League game, Hawks overpowered the Eagles 23-0 behind the one-hit pitching of Bob Bailey.

Ortleib struck out eight and accounted for three of the Red Sox's seven hits. Bailey struck out six and knocked in three runs with three singles for the Hawks. Pete Smith had two hits.

Rozelle Gives Some Advice

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle said Tuesday NFL owners should give players and fans an idea how much money they make so pro football's "financial picture can be put in proper perspective . . ."

"I'm hopeful," Rozelle said, "that in the near future the owners will make certain disclosures of financial information to the players during negotiations, and also make them public, so professional football's financial picture can be put in proper perspective for a number of people."

Rozelle said he thinks many people have an inflated notion of NFL income.

The commissioner also said money would be the key factor in whether the World Football League can successfully compete against the NFL. He said the WFL "has already been a factor in escalating (player) salaries."

"Will the new league make it?" Rozelle repeated in response to a question. "I can only say . . . the same thing I said when they (the WFL) were formed. I said if they have two things, enough money and a willingness to spend it—and it takes both—they can have a football league. But it takes a bunch of money."

Foli Disabled

Foli's place on the active roster will be taken up by catcher Bob Stinson. Reactivated from the disabled list, Stinson had been sidelined since April 2 with a fractured toe.

USS West Point Sets Reunion

CENTER POINT, IOWA

The U.S.S. West Point Reunion Association, an organization of Navy and Marine crewmen of America's largest troop transport during World War 2, will hold its reunion in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., in August of 1975.

Formerly the flagship of the U.S. Lines known as the America, the ship was commissioned a Navy vessel, U.S.S. West Point, in July 1941 and served the Navy until February 1946.

Reconverted to passenger service with her former name, the America was sold to Chandris Lines in 1964 and continues in passenger service today as the S.S. Australis, making four stops a year at Port Everglades in Florida.

Interested crewmen may write to West Point Reunion, Box 315, Center Point, Iowa, 55213, for more information.

Liberty Bell Contests for students of all ages.

In observance of our nation's bicentennial celebration, Statewide commissioned the I. D. Verdin Company, Inc. of Cincinnati, Ohio to cast our copy of the original Liberty Bell.

To honor the arrival of this Liberty Bell replica at our Main Office, we are announcing three Liberty Bell Contests for students in the Kingston, Onteora, and Rondout Valley School districts only.

If you are in a Grade from 1 through 4, stop by either the Main Office on Wall Street or the Mammoth Mall Office now and pick up the Coloring Card shown below. Be sure to attach the Entry Form to your entry!

If you wish to enter either of the other two Contests, read the directions here and submit your entry in person, or by mail, with the Entry Form attached.

Dutchess Jail Escapee Is Recaptured

POUGHKEEPSIE — Dutchess County Jail escapee Barry Leary, 30, was back in jail Tuesday after being recaptured in Brooklyn Monday afternoon by Dutchess Sheriff's Detectives, members of the New York City anti-crime squad, and parole officers.

Leary and Carlton Wood, 22, of Poughkeepsie, sawed through bars in the jail on North Hamilton Street last Thursday and lowered themselves to the ground on bed sheets which were tied together.

Wood, who was in jail awaiting court proceedings on a drug charge, was recaptured in Poughkepsie hours after the escape.

Leary was picked up at about 2:15 p.m. Monday a few blocks from his Brooklyn home, according to a spokesman for the Dutchess County Sheriff's Department. He was returned to Dutchess County Jail Monday night.

Leary and Wood both face escape charges.

Your Horoscope

Thursday, May 16

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Much confusion is evident early in the day so think very carefully of all the factors connected with your regular duties before making a decision. If doubt continues consult a person with high ideals for the right answer.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Your emotions are interfering with your thinking so don't make any important decision until you feel perfectly calm. Walk with care.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Talk over long-range projects with a friend so they can be properly clarified. Attend the social and show more affection for others.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) The afternoon is the best time to ask a favor of an influential person. Engage in community affairs, but don't get caught in a trap.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Show that you are capable of understanding your opponent's point of view. Correspondence with out-of-towners brings fine results.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Make certain you handle personal obligations in a most meticulous fashion. Mate is in a fine romantic mood. Forget talking shop.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Know what your true position is with an associate and clear up a very puzzling situation. Steer clear of one who opposes you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Don't neglect to pay an important bill. Money problems can be taken to a financial expert ad then easily straightened out.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You are not thinking very clearly in the day so forget any important dealings with others until later. Take it easy tonight.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those young people who likes complicated problems and should therefore be given a fine education so that complex matters can be handled with clarity and thought. Your progeny could become very successful and even famous, and would do well in governmental circles or working with big corporations.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Carroll Righter's Individual Forecast for your sign for June is now ready. For your copy send your birthdate and $1 to Carroll Righter Forecast, The Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 629, Hollywood, Calif. 90028.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

SEX: (Q.) Every time you have a question about sex, you discourage it. You make it scund like a horrible thing.

I think if two people love each other, sex is really beautiful

Is the joining of two people's souls a bad thing? Does it really matter if you're married or not? Is sex wrong?—Young Male in New York.

(A.) Although I write for all teens, a large portion of those who read this column are 10 to 15 years old. If you had the background I do counseling you'd know that endorsement of sex for these young people would be very careless.

Thank you for your comments. Now to answer your specific questions. (1.) Sex joins bodies. In some cases it doesn't join souls. When it doesn't it is bad. (2.) Yes, it matters whether you are married or not. (3.) Sex under the right circumstances is not wrong.

UNANSWERED: (Q.) I see my girl friend only in the summer. During school I write to her but I never get an answer. I give her my address in my letters and ask her to write me back but she doesn't. What else can I do?—Alone in Alabama.

(A.) Her failure to write tells me something. It should tell you something too. What else can you do? You can admit to yourself that probably she doesn't care as much for you as you care for her.

(Write to Jean Adams, care of this newspaper, P. O. Box 2464, Houseon, Texas 77001. Every letter is read, but because of the great number received Jean Adams cannot send personal answers.)

Opening lead—♥3

"Finesses, finesses, finesses," groaned Hard Luck Joe. "For Lucky players they always work; for ordinary players they work half the time; for me, they never work."

Joe had finessed the jack of hearts had lost and there had been no way for Joe to make his contract.

As uaual Joe had no reason to complain about ahd luck. His opponents could have bid five spades and been down only one trick. But they had elected to let Joe play a five-diamond contract that could not be beaten. Maybe they knew Joe's ability to mangle a dummy or maybe they just didn't like to sacrifice.

There is no interest paid on an early successful finesse. Therefore, a player should postpone his finesses when possible. There was no hurry about taking that heart finesse.

Joe should have won the heart lead with his king, drawn trumps, puffed out his two spades and played ace and another club. The defense could take two club tricks and then would stuck for a lead.

West wouldn't have another heart to lead; East could only lead a heart up to dummy's ace-jack while a lead of any other suit would have let Joe ruff in dummy, discard a heart and claim.

DWI... 'An Acute Problem'

By LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON

The number of drunken driving — 'Driving While Intoxicated' (DWI) — arrests in Ulster County has doubled in the past few years and is causing "an acute problem," according to District Attorney Francis J. Vogt who said there are between 50 and 60 cases pending now throughout the county.

The main problem lies with the penalty to be imposed in such cases and Vogt feels that perhaps there is a better way of handling such infractions without depriving a first offender who earns his living by driving, the use of his license for six months to a year.

Citing an example, the district attorney told of a truck driver with nine children whose loss of license would mean, a subsequent loss of his job and the necessity for his wife and children to go on the welfare rolls. The truck driver was not arrested for DWI while on his job but during is leisure hours.

Vogt said that there are at least 10 similar cases in the county now and he has suggested to the State District Attorny's Association and to legislators that in the case of first offenders, the driver's might have their license restricted rather than revoked and that they be allowed to drive solely for purposes of employment.

If they abused the privilege they would be subjected to a jail sentence, he suggested.

Vogt said that with rgard to repeated DWI offenders, they do not deserve consideration and should lose their licenses.

There was a time, the district attorney said, when DWI cases were allowed to plead guilty to traffic offenses instead of the drunk driving charges, here and elsewhere in that state. But, he explained, district attorneys were told at a recent statewide conference that it is not a good policy in that it interferes with the identification of a person with an alcoholic problem.

"I don't know whether people are drinking more or being caught more," Vogt said, "but the problem is becoming more prevalent with no regard for age or location. The problem is spread out throughout the county, he said.

"Few arrests are made during regular working hours, and few women are involved in drunk driving arrests," concluded Vogt.

The district attorney also noted Europe's tougher drunk driving laws and of U.S. attempts at rehabilitation of drinking drivers through pilot programs in various cities.

Congresswoman to Speak at Paltz

NEW PALTZ

Brooklyn Democratic Congresswoman Elizabeth Holtzman will be the principal speaker at the 87th Commencement of the State University College at New Paltz in the Main Quadrangle Sunday.

The program, under the direction of New Paltz President Dr. Stanley K. Coffman Jr., will begin with an academic procession at 11 a.m.

About 1,600 undergraduate and graduate degrees will be awarded in the ceremonies.

Ms. Holtzman entered Congress in Jan. 1973, after winning the Democratic Party primary in June 1972 from Rep. Emanuel Celler, then chairman of the Judiciary Committee and a congressman for 49 years.

Since her election to Congress, Ms. Holtzman has been a member of the House Judiciary Committee, which is now considering impeachment proceedings against President Nixon. She is also a member of the Judiciary Committee subcommittees on Immigaration and Criminal Justice, and the House Democratic Caucus Committee on revising procedures for choosing Vice Presidents.

In 1973, she successfully brought suit in the Federal District Court in Brooklyn challenging the bombing of Cambodia without the special consent of Congress. The court ruled the war in Cambodia unconstitutional, the Federal Court of Appeals overruled the District Court, and she is now appealing her case to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The ceremonies will be held in the Elting Gymnasium in case of rain. In addition to the awarding of degrees and Ms. Holtzman's address, they will include an original poem by Eric C. Gray, Class of 1974, to be read by Gayle Brill, editor of the Oracle, music by the Paul Winter Consort, and a speech by Ron Law, selected by the Student Government to represent them at the exercises.

Law, a political science major scheduled to graduate this August, is from New York City, and has been chairman of the Student Government during the past two years.

Dr. O. Lincoln Igou, chairman of the Department of Music, will again be Grand Marshall, assisted by John Baptista, Ms. Brill, Albert Chin, Leslie Kelmachter and Stanley Truman, student marshalls and members of the Commencement Committee.

Staff members of the Commencement Committee include Henry Idzerda, coordinator of media services operations; Mrs. Cecile Ralph, acting recorder; and Mrs. Patricia W. Van Ness, acting associate director of public relations. Joel Swift, assistant to the president, has been coordinating the committee's efforts.
